Eskimo Stars Primed for All-Out Effort Against Powerful Blue Bombers

PRODUCING GREATEST WAVE of sports enthusiasm Edmonton has known since Flyers won Allan cup, season 1947-48, is tonight's Western Conference semi-final game at Clarke Stadium. Eskimos take on famed Winnipeg Blue Bombers in first of best-of-three series for right to represent west in Grey cup Canadian football championship. Esk aces, pictured here, plan several surprises for Jack Jacobs and company. They are, from left, tackle Don Durno, guard Jim Quandamatteo, quarterback Lindy Berry, end Morris (Snake) Bailey, half-back Doug Pyzer. Bombers rule as slight favorites in tonight's encounter with bettors offering 7-5 on Blue tide in light of their three wins over Esks as compared with one loss to men of Stukus in regular league play. Both clubs will be at full strength with only Tinsley of Bombers and Hickey of Eskimos injured.

Grid Game Moved Up Half-Hour

Eskimos Will Face Winnipeg Squad Starting at 7:30

By DICK BEDDOES

Well, as the monkey said when he cut off his tail in the lawn mower, it won't be long now.

For at 7:30 tonight Edmonton Eskimos will trot onto the Clarke Stadium turf to face Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the first game of the Western Football Conference final.

The time was advanced 50 minutes so that the Bombers could catch their home-bound train tonight, CNR will hold the choo-choo one-half hour enabling the visitors to be on their way by 10:30 p.m.

RECORD CROWD SEEN

Over 10,000 seats had been sold at press time and Edmonton officials anticipate a record crowd of 14,000. The previous largest gridiron gathering in the west was in Calgary last November 11 for the second game of the prairie final between Stampeders and Regina Roughriders. Over 13,000 witnessed that contest.

Weather forecast for this one is mild, meaning the temperature will hover near 40 above at kick-off time.

The respective coaches—Frank (Butch) Larson of the Bombers and Edmonton's Annis Stukus—hoped their teams would be several degrees hotter than that.

In the betting marts the experts thought Winnipeg would be the hotter, the Manitobans being favored at 7-5. But they were getting considerable action at that price.

ESKS NOT WORRIED

Being underdogs, was of no particular worry to the Eskimos. They regard the Bombers as men pretty much like themselves—guys who pull their pants on one leg at a time.

If the locals were afraid of anything, it was of the mistakes they might make. They regard the Winnipeggers as ripe for plucking, a cocky club with a win complex developed after whipping Eskimos three out of four times in league play.

Calgarians Show They're On the Ball

Calgary has signed an armistice with Edmonton for tonight's rugby football game between Edmonton and Winnipeg.

A big motorcade of some 200 cars is leaving Stampedeville early this afternoon loaded with Stetson-hatted rooters determined to cheer the Eskimos on to victory.

The visitors are expected to arrive here around the supper hour. They will parade down Jasper Avenue in gaily-decorated cars.

Idea behind the friendly invasion is to demonstrate that our ancient sport rivals to the south are solidly behind Edmonton in the grid playoff games.

Elizabeth Will Visit Husband

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Princess Elizabeth will fly to Malta Nov. 25 to spend a few weeks with her sailor husband Prince Philip, it was announced last night.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 4 —(Reuters)—Quads—two boys and two girls—were born today to Mrs Jane Ogilvie here. Both mother and babies were reported to be "doing well."

No Smokescreen On Civic Survey

The civic survey, which the Edmonton Bulletin has insistently demanded for more than two and a half years, is going on at the civic block.

It started, some months ago, as a trial departmental check. Now that it has been extended into the engineer's department and transit system, it has attained the proportions of a full survey, exactly what The Bulletin requested, because the engineer's department and the transit system have been the focal point of most of the complaints made and the criticisms offered during the past several years.

But this transition into a full survey has been made so quietly and almost secretly that one wonders if this unobtrusiveness is intentional.

It may be that the administration is reluctant to give The Bulletin an opportunity to take credit for promoting such an investigation.

That, of course, is neither here nor there since it is human nature to avoid offering anybody a chance to say "I told you so".

But there is a second possibility in this secrecy, that so much resembles a smokescreen.

That possibility is that the administration regards this survey as furnishing facts for its own information only and that if anything ugly is uncovered in the process, the administration will quietly make corrections without fuss or publicity or save itself embarrassment by ignoring them.

We do not believe that this is the proper view of what should be done.

The survey is expensive. The city is paying $2,000 per month per man for the survey staff. That is the people's money. They are entitled to know exactly what they are buying with it.

They are entitled to know exactly which departments and which individuals are still geared to a city of 70,000 people after the city has grown to 160,000 people.

They are entitled to know exactly who and what are holding up the parade.

There is no need for any secrecy or any smokescreen.

Both the people of Edmonton and The Bulletin realized that the administration should be anxious and willing to effect any change that will promote the growth and prosperity of the city.

But the public wants to be the judge of it.

The public wants to know all the facts.—Editor.

Cardboard Goose Decoy New Clue To Lost Plane

A battered cardboard goose decoy will be examined this morning by relatives of five goose hunters long missing in northern Alberta—in the hope it might provide a clue to their fate.

It was hoped the damaged decoy found three miles east of Guy, Alta., might belong to the missing men and jettisoned from their yellow Cessna Crane in the Peace River district.

Aboard the craft which vanished after it left Grande Prairie at 4:14 p.m., three weeks ago today, for scheduled two-hour return flight to Edmonton were James W. Mulcahy, Joe Dory and Stuart Reid of Edmonton; Harry Pennington and Harry Morton of Vancouver.

The decoy find was made two weeks ago yesterday, six days after the Cessna, owned and piloted by Pennington, disappeared in heavy bush and muskeg country during a severe storm with bad icing conditions.

The field in question was ploughed just one day before the missing Cessna flew over the spot. No footprints were seen around the decoy. It was found about 15 miles north of the highway to Grande Prairie and about 70 miles off the regular airway from Grande Prairie to Edmonton.

News of the decoy find followed another belated report from spot 20 miles south and five miles east of High Prairie that "23 distinct shots" had been heard by two farmers on October 28. They told RCMP the shots came from a wilderness area where there were no settlers and "not even hunters."

The area described is only a short distance from where the decoy was found.

Relatives of the missing men said last night they were considering forming a party to conduct a search in the area of the two reports.

Alberta Battalion Is Going to Korea

Allies Form Firm Line Against Reds

SEOUL, Nov. 4 — (AP) — Allied forces formed a firm line today against Chinese and Korean Communist resistance—a line that stood unbroken in the face of renewed Red attacks.

An American spokesman of the Korean military advisory group said tonight that the South Korean army estimated six Chinese Communist divisions have entered Korea to oppose the allies.

On the Korean east coast the U.S. Marines still were in trouble.

The battle that had seemed so simple last month had changed complexion. One high-ranking Eighth Army officer said the Reds probably have 300,000 troops deployed along the Korean-Manchurian border.

MANY TROOPS READY

The spokesman said the Chinese Reds may have 1,00,000 or more troops within "committing distance," meaning they could strike from their present locations.

In the most crucial area, at Unsan and Kunu - inland from the west coast, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said the entire withdrawal strategy is "almost complete."

The situation there appeared, on the basis of field dispatches, to be stabilized.

SOME ESCAPE

"In northwest Korea, half of a trapped regiment of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division escaped to the new UN defence line from a trap sprung Thursday by the Korean Reds, aided by Chinese Communist troops.

On the northeast front, the American Marine 7th regiment ran into trouble on a drive northwest of Sudong, 20 miles north of the east coast industrial city of Hamhung. The marines are driving toward the Changjin reservoir, one of two power dams serving both North Korea and southern Manchuria.

The weather continued bad for allied air forces. Intermittent rains and low clouds hampered close fighter support.

Rain Coming For Playoff

Better wear your raincoat for the game tonight.

That's the bad word from the weatherman today.

"I hate to say it, but it looks as though there will be light rain during the evening," he said. "I'm going myself and I'm wearing my raincoat."

Temperature will be in the pleasant 40's, however.

The weatherman yesterday promised ideal weather for the game but today he finds himself with a storm on his hands.

"There's a new storm off Vancouver Island and heavy rain is falling over most of B.C.," he said. "It looks as though it will reach us here over the weekend."

JUST A SPRINKLE

Predicted high today is 50. Weather will be cloudy with occasional light rain.

A sprinkling of rain fell yesterday and last night. Maximum temperature yesterday was 55. Low last night 45. Temperatures will be cooler Sunday.

Rest Of Brigade Will Train In U.S.

OTTAWA, Nov. 4—(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton announced today that an infantry battalion and supporting troops from Canada's special brigade will move to Korea late in November.

The battalion selected is the Second Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. (The Princess Pats is an Alberta unit with headquarters at Calgary.)

The remainder of the special brigade will remain in Fort Lewis, Wash., where it will be available for service required of Canada as a member of United Nations and of the North Atlantic Treaty.

Mr. Claxton said that arrangements have been completed to move the 11,000-man special force to Fort Lewis for training purposes. The movement will begin Nov. 15 and will be completed on Nov. 23.

About 350 men from the force already are bound for Korea. They arrived in Yokohama, Japan, yesterday and sailed for Korea today. The men include cooks, drivers and other tradesmen needed to set up camp for the portion of the brigade that is to follow.

GET 4 DAYS LEAVE

Mr. Claxton said in his statement:

"Arrangements have been completed whereby the Canadian army special force will proceed to Fort Lewis, near Seattle, as planned. The move will begin Nov. 15 and be completed on Nov. 23.

Before proceeding all members of the force receive four days leave in addition to time to travel to and from their homes.

"As at present planned, late in November one infantry battalion with some supporting troops will move directly to Korea, where it will continue training and assist other United Nations forces. The battalion selected is the Second Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry.

ROTATE FORCES

"The remainder of the force will continue training at Fort Lewis and be available for service to assist in discharging undertakings by Canada under the United Nations charter or the North Atlantic treaty.

350 Canucks Leave Japan For Korea

By DAVE McINTOSH

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Nov. 4. — (CP)—The advance party of Canada's special brigade sailed from here tonight aboard the troop transport James O'Hara on the last stage of its journey to Korea.

The 350 Canadians, who arrived here yesterday on the O'Hara after a two-week Pacific crossing from Seattle, expect to reach Pusan, Korea, Monday morning.

Latest word is that they will occupy three old school buildings in that southeastern Korea port. They will wait there until they are notified that reinforcements are on the way. Then they will stake out a training area outside Pusan, probably early next month.

SAILING ADVANCED

On arrival here yesterday, the Canadians were told they would sail from Yokohama late Sunday and land in Korea Tuesday. However, sailing time of the O'Hara, which also carries American troops, was advanced nearly 24 hours.

The advance party is made up of specialists such as cooks, clerks, drivers and tradesmen. Its members, 93 per cent of whom are veterans of the Second World War, have received advanced individual training since joining the special force.

They are under command of General MacArthur, United Nations commander in Korea, and will move under his direction.

RUSSIANS NOW SORE AT POOR OL' SANTA

BERLIN, Nov. 4—(Reuters)—The Russians are sore at Santa Claus.

Toy manufacturers in the Soviet zone of Germany have been forbidden to produce Santa Clauses or Christmas angels, the West Berlin newspaper Die Welt said today.

Instead they have been told to make dolls wearing blue shirts and carrying blue flags of the Communist Youth Organization.

TOP SPORT WRITERS GIVES US COVERAGE

Canada's ace sports columnist, Jim Coleman, will bring Edmonton Bulletin readers his view of tonight's crucial Eskimo-Bomber game in a special guest column in Monday's Bulletin.

Complete game descriptions by The Bulletin's all-star sports staff and lively pictures by staff photographers will supplement Jim Coleman's coverage of the grid battle.

DUCK PLUCKED OUT OF AIR

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4—(AP)—Nothing to it. Hugh Johnson grabbed his bird on the way to work today as the duck season opened.

Johnson was sitting in front of the Missouri Pacific Railroad shops where he works. "As I leaned over he started to fly and I just picked him up by his wings."

Prices Generally Show Increases

Living Index Soars To All Time High Of 170.7

OTTAWA, Nov. 4—(CP)—Living costs ma[illegible] their eighth advance in nine months during September, moving the cost-of-living index up 0.9 points to a peak of 170.7 from 169.8, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

Prices generally were higher for the consumer. A major exception was meat prices, which decreased after a sharp spring and summer upward drive.

Prices increased for eggs, butter, milk, coffee, fruits, coal and coke, fall and winter clothing, footwear, tires, certain drugs and other items.

With September's advance, the Bureau estimated that living costs had climbed 69.3 per cent since August, 1939. The index is calculated on the basis that 1935-39 prices equal 100.

On the wholesale front, prices during October appeared to level off. An official said this probably arose from the government's move to free the Canadian dollar and the subsequent rise in the dollar on the New York market.

FOODS SOAR

However, he did not believe this levelling-off would be long maintained.

On the consumer level, the food sub-index advanced 1.3 points to 220.1 from 218.8—a gain of 15.1 points from 205.0 a year ago. Prices for eggs, butter, milk, coffee and fruits over-balanced declines in meat and fresh vegetable prices.

Rents, surveyed on a quarterly basis, remained at the peak of 135.5—higher by 11.6 points from last year's 123.9.

The weekly wholesales index for 30 industrial materials closed at 187.8 on Oct. 27, after fluctuating from 186.2 on Sept. 29. This index is calculated on the basis that 1926 prices equal 100.

Prices were higher for spruce lumber, wood pulp, steel shapes, raw rubber, rayon yarn and tin ingots, but lower for wheat, oats, steers, hogs, linseed and cottonseed oil, zinc and copper.

On another wholesale index, that of Canadian farm products, prices declined to 141.5 on Oct. 27, compared with 142.2 on Sept.

East Eyes Cheap Power In Province

CALGARY, Nov. 4—(BUP)—Calgary has more than enough natural gas to supply its needs for the next 30 years—and for 20 years of export.

So says the president of the Northwest Natural Gas Company—A. Faison Dixon. He told the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board in Calgary yesterday that present Alberta gas wells could supply the needs of the province, and of export markets, and still have one and a half trillion cubic feet of gas left over.

Earlier in yesterday's hearings, a Montreal chemical engineer told the Board that numerous large eastern financial interests are interested in establishing industries in Alberta because of its large reserves of cheap fuel.

Dixon says that the natural gas of the province could well attract many factories to Alberta, provided the fuel is made available in sufficient quantities.

Chile, Yugoslavia Resume Relations

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Chile and Yugoslavia have signed an agreement to resume diplomatic and commercial relations, it was announced yesterday.

Premier Tito's government severed relations with Chile Oct. 11, 1947. This was part of a general break between Chile and the Communist countries. The resumption of relations developed as a result of Tito's split with Moscow and his turn toward the west.

Boxer, 23, Dies After Knockout

SOUTH RIVER, N.S., Nov. 4.—(CP)—Alex Chisholm, 23, died in hospital in nearby Antigonish early today after failing to gain consciousness from a knockout blow delivered in a fight card here last night. His death is believed to be the first maritime ring fatality.

His opponent in a six, two-minute-round preliminary was Kid Sutherland, also 23, of nearby Country Harbor. Both weighed 150.

Snow Follows Heat

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—(CP)—The first snow of the season fell in the Toronto area today, just four days after a heat wave that set record temperatures for fall months. The snow gave a light covering to sidewalks and streets.

and air force—employed in the Far East will be relieved by other units and men in rotation if their stay is prolonged."

It was learned that the Princess Pats were chosen because they had proceeded to the advanced stage of their training faster than other units of the special brigade.

It is not expected that they will do any fighting in Korea until at least two months after their arrival there. They will continue training and possibly do some police work.

It also was learned that the remainder of the brigade will go to Korea if it is still needed there when it has completed most of its training. Otherwise, it likely will go to Europe.

The Princess Pats are under the command of Lt.-Col. J. R. (Jim) Stone, DSO, MC, 42, of Salmon Arm, B.C., a veteran of the Second World War.

The second battalion of the Pats, mainly is made up of men from Western Canada, although there is a sprinkling of men in the ranks from all parts of the country. There are about 900 men in the battalion.

Recruiting of the brigade for service in Korea or elsewhere was started Aug. 9.

The battalions that will remain at Fort Lewis are the Royal Canadian Regiment of Petawawa, Ont., and the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec.

Finchley Common, an area in London once notorious for hold-ups by Dick Turpin, now is entirely built over.

Canada May Produce U.K.'s New Jet Bomber

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—(CP)—Britain's defence minister Emanuel Shinwell, says Canada may be asked to produce the new British jet-propelled medium bomber, the Canberra, generally considered an ideal vehicle for the atom bomb.

The British minister raised the matter himself during a press conference yesterday prior to going into talks with the defence committee of the cabinet.

He put it forward as one way in which standardization of arms could work among Atlantic Pact powers. Both Canada and the United States, he said, might use the Canberra themselves in the buildup of western military defensive forces.

It was "only an idea—I'm not committed to this."

But his reference gave official weight to reports that Britain would like to have Canada make the new bomber in the big Montreal plant of Canadair Limited, at present producing modern jet fighters for the RCAF.

Mr. Shinwell arrived yesterday along with the Netherlands war secretary, Fockema-Andreae. They came up from Washington by air with Defence Minister Claxton, who returned from Atlantic Treaty talks there.

DUTCH THANKS

The two visitors will spend four days in Canada and will look over this country's training and war production facilities, including the Canadair plant.

Mr. Fockema-Andreae, in a later press conference, expressed his country's gratitude for Canada's gift of equipment for a Dutch army division.

He reiterated Mr. Shinwell's acceptance of the principle of German rearmament as long as it is welded into the common plan for Western defence in Europe.

Man Dies After Six-Storey Drop

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—(AP)—A 58-year-old man plunged six storeys to his death from a Rockefeller Centre building yesterday morning missing pedestrians on crowded Fifth Avenue.

The man was identified by police as Guy Bowden, assistant treasurer of the aluminum import corporation. The company has offices in the British Empire building, from the roof of which Bowden jumped or fell.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Nov. 4—(AP)—Seventy-eight South African natives were injured yesterday when a streetcar on which they were passengers overturned in Johannesburg. Twenty of the victims were taken to a hospital, where their conditions were described as serious.

Thieves Steal Phone Wires

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Telegraphic communication between Mexico and the rest of the world was cut off for several hours Thursday night and Friday because thieves stole several miles of telegraph wire off the posts.

Restoration of service was delayed because wire men were enjoying "The Day of the Dead," a Mexican Memorial Day holiday.

North American Tourists Increase

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Nov. 4—(Reuters)—American and Canadian visitors to the cultural festival here this summer nearly doubled the total for 1949, it was announced yesterday. Hotels and boarding houses had 6,151 North American visitors during the festival, compared with 3,288 in 1949.

Japanese Buddhists To Present Statue

TOKYO, Nov. 4.—(Reuters)—Japanese Buddhists are to present a 10-foot statue of Buddha, dedicated to peace, to United Nations headquarters, Kyodo news agency reported today. The statue, which took a Japanese artist three years to carve, will be dedicated at a Tokyo temple before it leaves for New York.

Indian Asylum Is Offered To Tibetan Ruler

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 4—(AP)—India has offered to give asylum to the Dalai Lama, boy ruler of Tibet, should he flee his capital of Lhasa to avoid capture by Chinese Communists, officials disclosed today.

Foreign ministry officials viewed with skepticism hearsay reports from the border point of Kalimpong that the priest-ruler and his elderly regent already were fleeing from the remote capital on the roof of the world.

But they admitted puzzlement at the long silence of Dr. S. Sinha, Indian diplomatic representative in Tibet.

Pair Charged With Offence Against Girl

Two North Edmonton men were charged with rape by city police today following an attack on a 17-year-old waitress in a playground last night.

The men, who gave police their names as Michael 'Mike' Tomiak and John Lukach, both of North Edmonton, will apptar before Magistrate S. G. Main in police court today.

One of the men was arrested by Constable McDonald, who saw him struggling with the girl around midnight. The other was arrested at his home later by city detectives.

The girl told police that she was seized by the two men while walking through the 126 avenue subway and was taken to the North Edmonton playground.

FIRST LUCKY YOUNGSTER to place a direct order with Santa Claus in Edmonton this year is John Dawson, four, of 11238-105 street, John was first to greet Santa when toymaker paid a "surprise" visit to city today to check on Edmonton's growth. He appeared on stage of Capitol Theatre and later at Woodward's Store (Edmonton) Ltd. "Wonderful Toyland."

Santa Claus Flies Here, No Snow For Reindeer

By Barney McKinley

Santa Claus arrived in Edmonton last night after a fast trip by air from the north pole.

In an exclusive interview this morning the fat little man from the north pole toy shops said he felt he should check on the number of youngsters in Edmonton this year.

Reports were reaching his territory, he said, that Edmonton was growing so fast the last toymaker's census wasn't reliable.

Santa Claus was also gathering reports on the behavior of children in the city, so if yours hasn't been so good lately here's your warning to reform if you want a full stocking Dec. 25.

HASNT CHANGED

Even though Santa Claus had to fly to Edmonton (no snow for reindeer) everything else about him is the same. He was dressed in a red suit with white ermine trimming just as he is every year.

He'd a fat red face and a big white beard. And a little fat stomach that shook when he laughed like a sackful of theatre stubs.

His preview appearance in Edmonton today was arranged in connection with Woodward Stores (Edmonton) Ltd.'s "Wonderful Toyland" show today.

TWICE ON STAGE

Earlier he appeared twice on stage of Capitol theatre during special early morning shows at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

At Woodward's he spent the day passing out candy treats and taking orders for toys to be delivered Christmas Day.

Tonight he's flying back to the north pole to step up production in his workshops.

Gas Plant Claimed Losing Proposition

Natural Gas Conservation Plant Losses Told By Imperial Man

Imperial Oil's natural gas plant installed at Leduc as a conservation measure is a losing proposition, W. D. C. MacKenzie of Imperial Oil told Alberta's Conservation Board in a continuation of gas export hearings.

Mr. Mackenzie intimated that although natural gas from the Leduc field would be on the increase and possibly double or triple the present capacity of 24,000,000 cubic feet, his company would not be prepared to build another under present prices.

This would mean that many millions of cubic feet of gas a day would have to be flared.

BETTER PRICE

Mr. Mackenzie said "if we had a better price for our gas as a result of export or for any other reason this would make it more likely that we would build a plant."

It was revealed that the bulk of the present output of the Imperial plant is going to Northwest Utilities at the distress price of four cents per thousand cubic feet.

He said some flaring was taking place at present because the utility company had not yet completed preparations to take in the 18,000,000 cubic feet now being processed.

When asked his attitude on the utility companies building a pipe to take care of the additional millions of cubic feet of gas, he said he thought that would be a fine conservation measure for them to undertake.

BETTER MARKET

The inescapable conclusion was that there will have to be a much better market for gas or great quantities in years to come are going to go to waste.

Mr. Mackenzie also said that his company would not undertake the big capital expenditures necessary to delineate the many gas occurrences it had encountered "until such time as we have a better assurance that the gas can find an economic outlet.

The Imperial representative also referred to the difficulties of delineating gas fields under present crown lease regulations. These require only one gas well to a section. Yet often a part of the section is unsold crown reserve.

NEW GAS SET-UP

Some sections are divided among many owners. He suggested the possibility of a new gas set-up and "gas only" leases as one method of relieving the dilemma.

Mr. Mackenzie stated that the Hume and Ignatieff report on Alberta gas reserves had been fou d by his company as conservative and consequently estimates classified by Hume and Ignatieff as probable can be considered a reliable minimum estimates—at least in the areas where we have interests.

In referring to the new discoveries, Stettler, Flint, Big Valley, Stony Plain-Acheson, Mr. Mackenzie said it was reasonable to expect that they would become major fields such as Leduc and Redwater.

Bounty Decided For Pet Foxes

CHARLOTTETOWN, Nov. 4.—(CP)—Premier Walter Jones announced yesterday in Prince Edward Island government has decided to place a bounty on the fox, which is running loose in the province and causing damage, especially around poultry yards. Amount of the bounty will be announced later.

CLOTHES, CASH, WHISKEY FORM THIEVES' HAUL

Clothes valued at $200 and a bottle of whiskey were stolen from the car of an Edmonton visitor from a downtown parking-lot last night.

Thomas E. Clary, Calgary, told police the draft window of his car had been smashed and the clothes in a gladstone bag were stolen.

Stamps valued at $50 were stolen from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics Thursday night. In all denominations, the stamps were perforated OHMS.

All-Out Fund Effort Slated

An all-out effort by the Alberta curlers' 199 Club is scheduled for the week-end to try to put the club over the top in its drive for $2,000 for the Crippled Children's Fund.

So far the club has collected less than two-thirds of its quota and members are pessimistic about its chances.

The Club was inspired by Billy Rose of Sedgewick, as a means of bolstering the curlers contribution.

If was feared that reduced entries in the Associated Canadian Travelers' bonspiel would mean negligible returns for the Crippled Children's Fund.

The big ACT Carspiel ends in Edmonton today. Unless the remaining money can be rounded this week-end before curlers return the fund will fall to hit the mark.

Object of the club was sign up 200 members who would each contribute $10. Each member contributed on condition 199 members also signed up.

Provincial Report Shows Increased Bus Travel

Bus companies licenced to operate in Alberta travelled 226,936,488 passenger miles in the province last year.

Information is contained in the annual report of the provincial department of public works, issued today. Report covers the 12 months from April 1, 1949 to March 31, 1950.

Both passenger miles and actual miles travelled by the buses show a substantial increase over the previous year.

In 1949-50 buses travelled 7,036,437 miles compared to 6,356,813 miles the previous year.

In the 1948-49 year, passenger miles travelled amounted to 201,905,591 compared to 226,936,488 miles in the corresponding period this year.

A total of 38 bus companies held licences to operate in the province in 1949-50, and operated 89 lines.

Driving Charge Follows Injury

A motorist was charged with dangerous driving by police this morning following an accident on 82 avenue in which an aged pedestrian was injured.

William J. O'Keefe, 9103-84 avenue, was charged after Wilbert Bradetn, 73, of the Eventide Home, 103 street and 82 avenue was injured at 6:45 p.m. last night.

Bradeen was taken to University hospital by South Side ambulance and is suffering from a slight concussion. His condition is good.

Yellowhead Action

The Trans-Canada Highway situation has changed so radically with the announcement that a power development project may close off the Big Bend highway that the government of Alberta would be justified in informing the government of British Columbia that the Yellowhead is now the favored route through this province.

Even from the standpoint of creating an uncertainty, the B.C. government has rendered the Kicking Horse Pass route untenable.

The present proposal, according to the Hon. E. C. Carson, public works minister of B.C., is a joint B.C.-Grand Coulee project whereby the power capacity of the Grand Coulee hydroelectric would be increased through the creation of an artificial reservoir which would cover part of the Big Bend highway.

The Big Bend highway is part of the projected Kicking Horse Pass route of the Trans-Canada Highway.

Obviously, if the reservoir plan is consummated, the Highway cannot follow this route without a costly and most difficult diversion at Big Bend.

This circumstance appears to change the entire basis upon which the decision to use the Kicking Horse Pass route was founded.

In other words, British Columbia appears to have repudiated its understanding with Alberta for the sake of another project which is more attractive because of the power it will release for B.C. use.

Certainly Alberta, then, is no longer bound by its arrangement with B.C. over the Kicking Horse route. And the argument advanced by the Alberta government for the choice of the Kicking Horse route, namely that no other route would be satisfactory to B.C., falls completely to the ground.

This significant change in circumstances demands an early change in plans.

Unless Alberta reverts to the Yellowhead route as first choice and so informs B.C., a great deal of useless construction could easily be done and a great deal of public money wasted.

Must Be An Alternative Plan

One of the most unfortunate features of Wednesday's voting was the defeat of the $50,000 money bylaw to provide a new concrete grandstand for Renfrew Park.

It is unfortunate because the value of the park as a baseball centre is materially depreciated without this grandstand as will be the volume of revenue to the city from the present lease.

Failure to spend $50,000 on the grandstand will probably lose the city many times that amount in revenue.

Alderman Fred Mitchell said on election night that another way might be found to finance the building of the stand.

It should be one of the first duties of the new council to find such a way and get the stand built at the earliest possible moment.

Borstal Institution for Youth

It is good news that the Borstal type penal institution for youthful offenders, discussed in the legislature some months ago, is at last in the construction stage on a site near Bowden.

The Borstal system of penology has had magnificent results in England for many years. It has been found useful wherever it has been tried in Canada.

That Alberta has applied no such measures to juvenile crime is a black mark against the otherwise high social record of this province.

British Columbia, for instance, whose social legislation runs close to that of Alberta in many respects, had a Borstal institution nearly twenty years ago. Recently a second type of Borstal home has been opened in that province.

Alberta, therefore, is actually starting work on this institution, not only enlarges the machinery for the rehabilitation of erring youth, but regains its position of leadership in social legislation, that is, social legislation based on sound economic theory.

Fellowship of Living and Dead

Last Thursday was All Souls' Day, an occasion not marked in the Christian calendar as sacred to those who have left this earthly life.

Now the exact meaning of All Souls' Day differs among those who hold differing views as to the condition of the dead.

That section of Christendom which believes that the souls of the departed do not enter immediately into heaven but undergo a continuation of that purification, commenced on earth, which fits them for heaven, regard All Souls' Day as a day set aside primarily for those prayers which might assist the departed to achieve eternal bliss.

That other section of Christendom which believes that the dead are judged and sent to their own place immediately the breath leaves their bodies, will regard All Souls' Day merely as an occasion for commemorating the earthly lives of the faithful.

But whatever one's belief may be, in this particular, All Souls' Day has very well remind everyone of the fellowship that does exist, in reality, between the living and the dead.

The authority for believing in this fellowship of the living and the dead and for the means it affords for the interchange of love and assistance and prayer, is found in the Apostles' Creed, perhaps the most ancient formula of Christian Faith.

The Apostles' Creed, as it is used in churches today, is almost exactly the same as it was in the fifth century. And this form, in turn, is derived from a form known to have been in use in the second and third centuries and to have been devised by the Apostles themselves.

The pertinent phrase occurs in the final paragraph of the Creed:

"I believe in . . . the Communion of Saints."

Now the Communion of Saints can mean only one thing, the close association between members of the Church Militant, which exists on earth, and members of the Church Triumphant, which exists in heaven.

It points directly to an interchange of beneficience between what we call the living and what we call the dead.

There is no doubt that the faithful dead, when they have attained felicity and perhaps therefore, look back to those they left on earth with prayerful love. There is no reason why the living should not think of them, in turn, with prayerful love.

As they, in the next life, commend us to the love of God, there is no reason why we, in turn, should not commend them to the mercy of our Saviour.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Harold L. Weir

Imperial Crown Jewels Have Lost Their Magic

I noticed some days ago that the Russians had been expressing a bit of chagrin, not to say annoyance, over the fact that the crown jewels of the Holy Roman Empire, which they thought they had pinched during the war, had turned out to be fakes.

The crown and sceptre, etc., which the Russians, like pack rats, had carried off to Moscow, must have been fakes. It was argued, because the real authentic ones have turned up in Vienna.

WEIR

There will, of course, be a great deal of heart-burning over these matters in many parts of Europe because there are thousands of deluded fanatics who believe that the Holy Roman Empire is still capable of restoration and is still destined to rule the world.

It is a vain and foolish hope.

It was a vain and foolish hope away back in the year 962 when those same crown jewels were made by skilled craftsmen for the Emperor Otto I.

The Holy Roman Empire, which has been described to the point of nausea by various writers as being neither holy nor Roman, was dead even in the year 962. But wouldn't lie down.

And it continued to refuse to lie down even in the year 1914 when the German Kaiser, whose title was a Teutonic adaptation of "Caesar", justified his attempt to conquer the world by some muddled notion that he was the spiritual heir to Caius Julius and Augustus.

Great Concept

The Roman Empire, built on the conquests of Julius Caesar and expanded through the reigns of Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, Nero, Galba, Otho, Vitellius, Vespasian, Titus, Domitian, Nerva, Trajan until it reached its greatest extent under Hadrian, was in many respects a great and noble concept.

It was brutal and violent. But it brought peace more frequently than it brought war.

It carried to all parts of Europe a rule of law to replace what was little better than the rule of the jungle. It built roads everywhere. It policed the known world.

It was not civilization itself. But it beat out paths along which civilization was later to follow.

There were great emperors after Hadrian. But the empire itself diminished of its own weight and corruption until in the year 410 it was captured by the Visigoths under Alaric and sacked by the Vandals in 455.

The Western Empire dissolved and the Dark Ages fell upon Europe because the protecting and law-giving power of the Romans had collapsed.

In 771 a man named Charlemagne became King of the Franks. He conquered Lombardy. He conquered Dalmatia, and in the year 800 was crowned Emperor of the West, setting up that strange and semi-mythical Holy Roman Empire which was called Roman to make it respectable and holy to advertise it as the secular arm of the Roman Catholic Church.

Foolish Parody

In 843 his successor, Louis Pious, died and there was no regular succession of Holy Roman Emperors until Otto was crowned in 962 and there was fabricated that very crown whose possession is agitating the Russians today.

Then came a succession of Holy Roman Emperors as shoddy and parvenu as the posturing Hohenzollern who made a vague gesture towards claiming the title in 1914.

The Holy Roman Empire was a foolish parody of the real Roman Empire for two reasons:

1. Because the spiritual authority, the cohesive force and the discipline of the original Empire had been carried on by the Roman Catholic Church.

2. Because the later creation was not, in fact, the secular supervisor of the Church, but frequently at war with it, because it was shot through with political debauchery and because its boundaries at no time were clearly defined.

The Holy Roman Empire was neither a civilizing instrument nor a policing force. It had no reason for existence. And, in point of fact, it did cease to exist.

But it has haunted men's minds to this day, as it haunted the mind of Kaiser Wilhelm, as it haunted the mind of Mussolini and as it is probably haunting the minds of the savage Communists, huddling in Moscow over a tarnished barbaric crown engrossed in the wild superstition that a Stalin or a Molotov might one day attain the stature of Augustus.

Letters to the Editor

Religious Teaching

Editor, Bulletin—Speaking of juvenile delinquency, I think it is generally conceded that children who attend Sunday School are better behaved then, and also later, than those who do not get this training. Many individuals ponder this matter and say: "Why not teach religion in day schools, also?" This, however, has been found to cause friction, but as most religions have similar ethics, I cannot see why the leaders should not get together and compile simple moral code, suitable for use in our public schools. Creeds and dogmas would have to be largely discarded, but since the belief in a Supreme Being is held by all, the task of getting out such a textbook would be comparatively easy.

Much thought has already been given this subject by gentlemen of the cloth and other moralists, so there is plenty of good material to draw from. I am told there is hardly anything of this nature taught in our public schools today and if that is the case, there surely must be an opportunity for the churches to co-operate in supplying this real need.

Vancouver J.C.

Against Tipping

Editor, Bulletin—I would like to go on record as expressing my dissatisfaction with the habit of tipping in public restaurants and amusement places, which has become so prevalent today and at the same time, so abusive.

At one time a tip was offered by a satisfied patron for a service performed above and beyond the regular duties of the party performing the service. Today it is taken for granted that a tip is forthcoming, regardless of the quality of the service performed. The waiter is quite often rude, snatching up the tip without so much as a "Thank you" and sometimes will mutter quite loud when the tip is not to his liking. What it amounts to is that the customer is treated according to the size of the tip the waiter thinks will be his, and gross inequalities of service sometimes occur.

I am all for abolishing the practice of tipping. The cry will be that tips are the livelihood of the waiter for his actual salary is only nominal. This is certainly true. But it brings up the question — why should not the owners of restaurants and amusement places be obliged to pay their help decent wages just as are any other industry? Why should the general public be saddled with the legitimate expenses of the restaurant or taxi industry?

If the finances of restaurants and the like are such that they could not operate by paying their help decent wages — something I have extreme doubts about—then it is still in order to abolish tipping by adding a small service charge to the bill.

In this manner a customer would pay tip the size of which is determined by the amount of his bill, which is logical enough. Special, preferential service for some; inequal, rude treatment for others would be done away with, for the waiter would have no particular reason to play favorites.

Food Plight

Editor, Bulletin—An item in the news from Ottawa intimates that in view of government experts, "Canada's population may hit or better 14,000,000 persons about three weeks before Christmas."

The trend is certainly forward. To this primary producer, it is smart news to learn that "the 26,000 increase represents the approximate average monthly boost currently taking place. For example, last year the total increase amounted to 296,000—about 25,000 a month."

In this favored land the addition of 25,000 new mouths at the Canadian dinner table is a matter of rejoicing for every citizen, but particularly those immediately concerned with food production.

As one engaged in the endless war against hunger, maybe it will do no harm to remind the average busy reader that, if we may be guided by those same experts (at the UN's Food and Agriculture organization level), the human family is increasing at the rate of 50,000 per day!

Painted Comparison

Editor, Bulletin—Our paid servant, the Government, comprising one hundred and twenty-five thousand employes throughout Canada, works thirty-six hours a week; they have sick leave with pay, many more holidays and innumerable other privileges denied the railway employe.

Compared to this our railway office, with a staff of about one hundred of which seventy-five per cent do general office work and have no dealing whatever with the public, punch a time clock at 8:00 a.m. in the morning and work till five with one hour off for lunch. All time off, whether due to sickness or bereavement in the family, etc., is deducted from our salary. This applies to the oldest as well as the youngest employe.

Bourbon Street After Dark

Things are supposed to be frightfully decorous now when darkness falls on the delta. The New Orleans newspapers are full of a murder trial centering about a night club in the French quarter and the joints are reportedly being very discreet until the heat is off.

This is an interesting trial, by the way. Seems that a prominent contractor of Nashville, Tennessee, came down here for the Sugar Bowl football game last New Year's Day and passed away rather abruptly New Year's Eve in this club, just when everybody was having so much fun.

"Companion" On Trial

Some three months after the funeral the contractor's widow got to wondering if it was really a heart attack as the genial New Orleans coroner had decided. The body was exhumed. It was found that the poor fellow was full of choral hydrate, which is the nice name for "knockout drops" or the old-fashioned Mickey Finn.

Charged with the murder is a sauve Latin night club owner and a raven-haired "B-drinker." B-drinker (or bar-drinker) is New Orleans talk for a hostess or "companion." These gals operate in most of the French quarter clubs.

If a lonely male patron wishes a little light conversation he may engage one of the ladies, who sometimes double as entertainers. Gal gets a cut on a per-drink basis.

A large number of cops move from one club to the other, looking stolid (and, incidentally, catching all the shows), and this adds a certain fillip to the festivities.

Bourbon Street, narrow and neonlit, is jammed with pedestrians until the dawn. The tourist and the native alike prowl from one den to the other to catch each show. There is no cover charge, but the tariff is steep. A Bacardi and Coke retails at a minimum of 90 cents. A 10-dollar bill dies a quick and horrible death.

The clubs are tiny and often shabby cells, faintly lit and with the extremes in rococco decoration. The tourist who dresses formally will feel lost since there's a high percentage of open shirts and any costume short of a bathing suit will suffice.

Dixieland jazz, as you may know, has bounced back strongly this year all over the country and there is only one bar-tendtiee New Orleans ragtime to be heard along Bourbon Street.

Still, most of the clubs are currently featuring girl shows and strip-tease routines.

The reigning queens are an enormously tall and well-packaged Los Angeles dancer known as Kalanian who does an "exotic" dance, ending in a wild and piercing shriek, all very primitive indeed, and a homely little blonde billed only as "Cupcake" who reads chapters from her diary, a rather frank confession she's been making now nightly for 32 weeks.

These acts and most of the others in the street are presented without any of the usual restrictions of taste or censorship.

Dixie Beat Sans Frills

The two most interesting spots for music we encountered were the Paddock Club and the El Morocco bar. In both cases the bands perform on a raised platform above the bar (there is, of course, no dancing) and the musicians are ringed by admirers.

In both these bands the key men are old-timers, usually dour-looking Negroes who make no foolish concessions to showmanship. There are no funny hats, no "novelty" numbers, no stunts. They simply lift those horns, wait for the leader to stomp his foot and take off. And if you happen to like that kind of music you just never want to leave. Never has music been played with such authority.

The outfit which appealed to us most was George Lewis' Ragtime Jazz Band (clarinet, trombone, piano, drums, trumpet, bass and banjo) which holds court in El Morocco.

World Government Plugged By MP

What is the difference between a Canadian burdock and a Scots thistle?

The former won't let you get away.

The latter keeps you away.

Although Gilbert McAllister has a burr on his voice as Scottish as the poems of Robert Burns, he is very definitely more like the Canadian burdock than the Scots thistle. For the Labor MP for the constituency of Ruthergien clings like a burdock to the idea of world government.

He is chairman of the group of 44 British Members of Parliament who believe that we can never get peace between the nations except by the same method that we got peace within the individual nations, that is, by setting up a world democratic parliament with real power to make law.

Even on his present trip to New Zealand, where he will act as deputy leader of the British delegation to the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, Mr. McAllister is telling his main story on Canadian stopovers.

Story Simple And Very Big

That story is very simple and very big. It is the same as has been told over and over again in this column for twelve years:

There can be no certainty of peace till we establish responsible democratic government on the world level.

The 44 MP's call themselves "The British Parliamentary Committee for World Government." In addition to the elected members of the House of Commons they include also several noted peers, like Lord Boyd Orr (Nobel Peace prize winner) and Lord Hadden Guest.

They meet every second Tuesday at 5 o'clock. That seems to me a grand omen. For just as ancient wisdom between the Greeks when they come bearing gifts, or as Kipling warned, beware of the Russian when he tucks in his shirt, so also you might say:

Beware of British MP's when members of all three parties are willing to get together for a constructive purpose over the almighty pot of tea.

Canada Took Step First

Not long ago in the British parliament they had an historic debate on that question of world government. A Conservative MP pointed to the historic resolution just previously passed by our own Canadian Senate.

This called for convention of representatives of the North Atlantic allies to consider ways and means of transferring the present alliance into an out and out federation.

All the British MP's who spoke hailed the Canadian move as a distinct step forward. Several of the speakers also referred to the resolutions still pending in both houses of the U.S. Congress along this same line.

The world is certainly moving massively towards what Tennyson called "the parliament of man, the federation of the world."

One Conservative MP made what seemed to me the finest speech in the British debate. He pointed to the racks, with hanging tapes, where in earlier centuries MP's parked their swords before they entered the House.

Just as civilized men had "surrendered" their right to fight with swords, he said, so nations are now compelled to "surrender" their right to make war on other nations. This necessitates two things, a change of mind by individuals and inauguration of the reign of law on the world level.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By DR. FRANK MORLEY

Simplicity In Language And Life

If everyone wrote as Rudolf Flesch suggests in "The Art of Plain Talk" there never would be a Paradise Lost nor the Pauline Epistles. This penchant for basic English can be overdone.

Often our cry for simplicity is a refusal to think. As the president of a university remarked the other day, he was shocked by the dislike of high school students for strenuous, disciplined thought.

MORLEY

Moreover, the truth that can be crammed in a nutshell is a very small truth just the size of a nut. There are thoughts that break through language. There is the great writing we hear "the music yearning like a god in pain," striving to describe the ineffable. The greatest minds are aware of the mysterious. Only materialists and dogmatic religious fanatics claim to have all knowledge. Plain truth is, too often, small truth.

Nevertheless, there is much in what the good man says. Jacques Barzun also in the superb book, "Teacher in America," bitterly reproaches obscure and involved writing.

Often I have sighed for one contemporary theological book of simplicity and clarity.

It is not by accident that a layman—C. S. Lewis—is professor of English at Oxford and also the most popular writer in the religious field.

Example Of Obscurity

For example, is the following passage from Brunner's "Revelation and Reason" really English "The same confusion between the ratio cognescendi and essendi lies at the root of the Barthian hostility to the analogia entis. Here, too, Barth is defending an important element in Reformed theology against Thomism: The analogia entis does not, in point of fact, give sufficient ground for the construction of a theologia naturalis upon it."

This sort of writing is just as usual in other subjects. The only adequate reaction is that of Mortimer Sneerd.

Therefore I have great sympathy for those people who clamor for "the simple Gospel." It was this longing for simplicity in religion that drove Benedict to leave Rome for the monastery of Monte Cassino, that was found in the heart of men like Francis of Assisi and John Knox.

Most folk associate simplicity with sincerity. Like the old chap who listened to an involved speech and remarked, "He talks considdouble like I do when I'm lyin'." They also connect simplicity with reality. It is significant that the Bible relates of Jesus that, "The common people heard him gladly." We get wearied of ritual and involved theology.

Natural And Spontaneous

The pepole we like best are simple people, people who are natural and spontaneous. People like Lincoln. During the serious, frantic time of 1863 Lincoln gave a reception at the White House which included many famous people.

An old farmer and his wife dressed in the clothing of frontier America came in, but ventured no further than the door. The tall eye of Lincoln saw them and he excused himself from the English nobleman to whom he was talking.

With sincere joy he greeted his old friends, "My, I'm glad to see you! I haven't seen you since I split rails in Sagaman County, back in 1847. How are you, anyway?" The old man remarked to his wife as he left, 'He's just the same old Abe.'

We read a great deal about maturity these days. Psychiatrists tell us the failure of most people is a failure to grow up. What is maturity? Is it not the ability to simplify life, to see its essentials, to be without pretence, without masks, to be emotionally wholehearted?

I have met a few great men. The thing that impressed me about them was their simplicity. The little fellows are complicated and arrogant. The great men are direct. If I ever want anything done I go to the man at the top. He is friendly.

Most people do not get to the top by accident. They get there because they are friendlier and kinder than others. They are direct and sincere. "And as the greatest only are, in their simplicity sublime."

Guest Speaker Gives History Of Bangs Disease In Alberta

KILLAM, Nov. 4—History of Bangs Disease was outlined here recently by L. D. Williams, district agriculturist and guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of Killam board of trade.

Mr. Williams explained what was being done to combat the menace to cattle raisers and stated that humans are threatened with undulant fever through the disease.

After reading the minutes of the last annual meeting, the chairman's report gave a general outline of the work done during the past year by the executive and its various committee. One or two items he especially drew attention to were, the extending of Calgary Power to the sports grounds; the improvements to the firefighting equipment and improving of the Memorial Centre.

MORTGAGE REDUCED

The financial report read by the secretary, Edward F. Fee, showed the arena mortgage of $6,000 has been reduced by $3,000 in 1950. Total revenue for the year was close to $19,000 which, after epenses, left a surplus of $876.62.

Richard Kinzer reported for senior baseball, John Buss and Adolph Schaffer for the two junior teams Oscar White roported for the building committee and it stated that another year would see the arena absolutely finished.

Arnold Saunders reported for the retail section, Floyd Robinson for junior hockey, Len Larson for membership committee.

Jim Rancier reported for the agricultural committee. The report on the stampede indicated it was desirable from a profit standpoint to hold a one-day affair rather than two.

Officers for 1950 are: president, Arnold Saunders; vice-presidents, Oscar White and Richard Kinzer; directors: Floyd Robinson, Gordon Fee, Len Larson, Roy Manning and C. L. Dickson; secretary-treasurer, Edward F. Fee.

Unemployment Drops In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Only 1,940,000 Americans were listed as unemployed in October—the smallest number in the last two years—and employment jumped to 61,746,000, the highest for any October in history. The census bureau, which reported the Job figures yesterday, said the 400,000 fall-off in the number of unemployed resulted from draft calls and expansion in farm employment.

Hard Luck Joe Sits In The Wrong Chair

By Oswald Jacoby

"That was a sad little hand," said Hard Luck Joe. "I certainly expected to make it. Do you realize that the odds must have been better than 3 to 1 in my favor?"

"The world," said Joe's partner, "lost a great mathematician when you took up bridge. But that's nothing to what bridge lost. Don't you realize that the hand was an absolute certainty — if you only played it right?"

West added his own moderate strength to the strength shown by his partner's vulnerable overcall.

Opening lead—♥A

Joe hoped that the diamonds would split 3-3, in which case his last diamond would be good; or that East would win the trick, in which case there might still be a chance to ruff the last diamond with dummy's last remaining trump.

As it happened, however, West was able to win the third round of diamonds; and West speedily led his last trump. This left Joe with a losing diamond and a losing spade in addition to the two tricks he had already lost.

Joe was sure that he had been unlucky, but North was even surer that Joe had played the hand badly. Do you see how he should have played it?

After winning the second trick with a trump, Joe should have led a spade. If West played low, dummy's jack should be played to duck the trick into the East hand. (If West played the queen, dummy would win and South would regain the lead with the diamond ace to lead another spade towards dummy).

One way or another, East would win a spade trick. He would not be able to return a trump so would be unable to prevent declarer from ruffing dummy's two low spades with the jack and king of hearts.

In all, dummy would make four trump tricks in addition to the two ruffs in the South hand. These six trumps tricks would be enough, added to the four top cards in the side suits.

Curiously enough, even Joe might have made the hand if he had been sitting in the North seat instead of in his actual position. He failed when he tried to ruff the South losers in the North hand, but he would have succeeded if he tried to ruff out the North losers in the South hand.

Church To Mark 57 Years Service

First Baptist Congregation Plans Special Events Week

Fifty-seven years of service in downtown Edmonton are being celebrated the coming week by the First Baptist Church. Organized in 1893 by 19 charter members, the church has grown to over 700 members.

Original building which has long since disappeared was built and furnished for less than $4,000.

Present building in the centre of the city was erected in 1905 and constitutes one of the landmarks of Edmonton.

First minister was Rev. Alexander McDonald, known as Pioneer McDonald, the father of Baptist work in northern Alberta.

STERLING WORK

Sterling work men like Rev. McDonald, Rev. George Clark, Rev. C. G. "Kelly" Stone and Rev. Daniel Young is easily recalled in Edmonton.

Present minister is the Rev. E. J. Bailey, the former chaplin to the Loyal Edmonton Regt. during the last war.

Plans for the anniversary celebrations include an anniversary dinner for the congregation on Wednesday Nov. 8th when Mr. Bailey will give an illustrated lecture on Italy.

Anniversary Services will be held Sunday Nov. 12th when special music by the choir and Richard Jones, the Welsh tenor, will be the background for the minister's messages.

Soldiers Wounded

SINGAPORE, Malaya, Nov. 4 — (Reuters) — Four British soldiers were wounded during a night engagement with guerrillas in Malaya Thursday. Four Malay constables and a driver were killed in a truck ambushed in another attack in the same state, it was announced yesterday.

East Engineer Dies Suddenly

HALIFAX, Nov. 4.—(CP)—Col. H. E. Bates, 66, of Sackville, N.B., prominent maritime engineer and veteran of two world wars, died here yesterday following a heart attack as he worked on plans for a bridge to span Halifax harbor. Born at Haverhill, Mass., he was in command of the Royal Canadian Artillery battery at Shawinigan Falls, Que., at the outbreak of the Second World War, and ended as a lieutenant-colonel and chief gunnery instructor at Camp Petawawa, Ont.

Quebec To Drop Term 'Asylum'

QUEBEC CITY, Nov. 4.—(BUP)—Quebec's insane asylums will cease to exist Nov. 15, at least in name.

Premier Maurice Duplessis told his weekly press conference last night that a law which becomes effective on that date will decree that asylums henceforth be known as hospitals.

He said the term "asylum" had "opened the door for multiple injustices and abuses."

Post Office Changes Due Here Monday

Edmonton's post office is due for a big change-over on Monday, Nov. 13.

That's the day approximately 150 post office employes will commence work in the new post office building at 98 street and 104 ave. It will bring about a completely new system for out-of-town mailing.

Business firms will particularly be affected. Due to the post office move, future mailing of all pre-paid COD and registered mail will be handled in the "advance" building and no longer in the post office.

EARLIER ARRIVAL

Post office officials said any mail for out-of-town points brought to the present building must arrive 15 minutes earlier than usual in order to catch trains and airplanes that will leave on present schedule.

This will give workers sufficient time to transport it over to the other building for mailing, they said.

Airmail service will also be carried out in this manner after Nov. 13.

Offices will be used for city sortation, wicket service and letter carrier service after that date.

It will be known as Edmonton Postal Terminal.

Parsons Presses For Tax Rebate

Mayor Sid Parsons has again written Premier E. C. Manning asking for at least a 25 per cent rebate of all automobile licence and gas tax receipts collected within municipal boundaries.

The money would be earmarked for building roads within the city.

The mayor referred to his previous letter of March 30 on the same subject, in which he said he felt cities and municipal districts should have a share of provincial tax revenues for local road building.

He said a 25 per cent rebate should be fair, because hundreds of city-licenced vehicles never get off city-built-and-paid-for roads. "They hardly ever turn a wheel on roads built by the province," he emphasized.

Ottawa Fares Up 10 Cents

OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—(CP)—A 10-cent-a-trip increase in Ottawa taxi cab fares, effective Nov. 15, was authorized yesterday by the Ottawa police commission, acting on an application from the Taxi-Owners Association.

This will boost the initial fare from 35 to 45 cents. A similar increase was authorized in 1946.

Iran, Soviet Agree

TEHRAN, Iran, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Premier Ali Razmara announced yesterday Iran and Russia have reached final agreement on a $20,000,000 barter trade treaty. Details are secret at present.

LARGEST, MOST MODERN racing grandstand in Western Canada, at exhibition grounds here, with seating capacity of 8,000, will be completed in early spring. Work on new $880,000 structure is progressing well and for past number of weeks workmen have been assembling steel framework of roof which is to cover entire seating area. Grandstand construction began last spring.

Forest Industry Backs Government

International Meet Set for Interests of Forest Products

From sawmills to sandpaper, the forest products industry has an essential role in preparedness program of United States and is gearing for inter-trade and international co-operative efforts to advance both technical and industrial phases of the forest products industry, stated W. Burdette Wilkins in announcing an international meeting of forest products interests to be held in Philadelphia in May 1951.

Mr. Wilkins, general chairman of the committee arranging meeting, says Canada, England and Western Europe as well as American industry will be represented at this meeting.

Earlier this year facilities of the forest products industry for national defence were offered to the U.S. National Resources Council by James F. Hamilton, president of the Forest Products Research Society, coordinating organization of American forest products interests.

TO WIDEN SCOPE

This May 1951 meeting of the forest products industry is being held to widen the scope of inter-industry and international co-operative efforts to coordinate and extend research which covers a total of more than 3,000 products and by-products.

FPRS will convene jointly with the wood industries division of American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Society of Plastics Industries, Society of American Foresters, Woodworking Machinery Manufacturers Association, American Society of Testing Materials, Northeast Wood Utilization Council and many other specialized technical societies.

An international clearing house for convention arrangements has been established at Two Columbia Circle, New York, 19, N.Y.

Admittance to the technical sessions of the convention will be by invitation only. However, anyone wishing information is invited to write to the New York office for further details.

Broken Screws Easily Removed This Way

Hardened-steel screws from which the eads have been broken can be removed by grinding a small pocket in the top end.

This produces a shoulder against which a pin punch can be held for backing out the broken stub.

Just chuck a small grinding wheel in a hand grinder and grind the pocket near the edge of the screw, holding the wheel at an angle so that one side of the pocket will be nearly vertical.

To back out the stub, tap the shoulder until the stub can be grasped with a pair of pliers.

★ ★ ★

Homeowners frequently find that the wire rings of clamp-on-shades do not fit properly on large bulbs. This happens because the diameter of the rings does not increase and consequently they tend to slip off.

This may be remedied, however, by cutting both the rings at their lowest point, forming a four-pronged wire claw which will hold firmly to any size bulb used in the average home.

★ ★ ★

After experiencing the trouble of setting up a heavy ladder each time it was necessary to replace a burned-out bulb in his yard light, one farmer drilled a series of small holes on opposite sides of the light pole and drove in discarded teeth from a peg-tooth harrow to form steps for easier climbing.

The holes are carefully located so that one tooth is about 14 in. above the other on alternate sides of the pole. The first tooth is placed 4 to 6 ft. above the ground to prevent children from climbing the pole.

★ ★ ★

When laundry, fruit or other heavy loads are carried in a wire-handled bushel basket, the task is easier if a wooden clothespin is slipped over each of the handles to provide a more comfortable grip.

If the basket is used frequently, fasten the clothespins in place by wrapping strips of adhesive or cellulose tape around them.

To obtain positive action when turning the handle of a bench vise, use a compression spring to take up the lag in the jaws.

Just remove the traveling jaw and shaft from vise, slip the spring over the screw and then reassemble the vise.

Heat System Is Low Cost

Homeowners can install their own hot-water heating system in new or existing buildings now that a simplified low-cost system is available. The installation combines hot-water radiators and small fans to provide forced circulation of air through the radiator fins.

Copper tubing is used throughout and the radiators, mounted between the studs flush with the wall, are conected in series to a small boiler.

A high-velocity pump circulates the water through the system. There are two methods of control.

A standard thermostat turns the heater on and off in the usual manner.

In addition, each radiator has a built-in rheostat to control the speed of its fan. These fans are turned on automatically when the thermostat turns on the heater.

FIX-IT FORUM

Q—I have heard of a paint that may be applied to wallboard or plaster to make a blackboard of these surfaces. Can you tell me more about this?

A—There are ready-mixed paints on the market for this purpose. However, if you wish to mix it yourself, use the following: Lampblack, 2 oz. mixed with 8 oz. fine pumice stone and 16 oz. of boiled linseed oil. To this mixture add turpentine to make 2 quarts of paint. The surface should be given several coats, sanding smooth between each two coats.

THIS BUNGALOW is planned for 60-foot lot. Some locations because of inadequate drainage dictate utility room. Here it is conveniently located on same level as kitchen and provides ample storage. Plan is convenient and economical. Roof lines are kept low but there is sufficient attic space for storage. This is another in series by Harold C. Beckett, architect, 52 Chatham Street, Windsor.

Gypsum Is Vital Factor In Home Construction

One of the most important items in the construction of a modern home is gypsum—a mineral. It is used both in plaster and in pre-cast wallboard panels, often called plaster boards, sheet rock and dry walls.

Both forms of gypsum are fire-proof. Walls built of gypsum lath and plaster stop the passage of fire for 45 minutes.

A half-inch thickness of gypsum wall board stops the passage of fire for 40 minutes. The minimum standard requirement for residential buildings is 30 minutes.

MODERN WALLBOARDS

The development of modern wallboards of this type has brought about widespread economy in home building.

This dry-wall construction eliminates the time and labor involved in applying separate coats of plaster and waiting months for them to dry thoroughly.

Dry-wall construction is now being used in homes where the most expensive walls could easily be afforded on a straight investment basis.

New methods of covering joints results in surfaces so smooth that detection is virtually impossible after painting or papering.

An added advantage of gypsum is its resistance to cracks caused by framing movements, vibration or settlement. It is possible to use the finest wall coverings on initial decorating jobs.

The elimination of wet plaster tends to minimize considerable swelling and shrinkage of lumber induced by the tremendous amount of moisture held in a new house for long periods.

Available in large sheets, these wallboards are a boon to house remodeling, the finishing off of extra attic rooms and other additions.

Pigeon SOS

JOHANNESBURG. — (CP) — A homing pigeon brought back an SOS from the sea which saved the Durban fishing boat Valk. The pigeon, normally carried to bring reports on the catch, was released when the boat broke down in heavy seas. A tug went out and put the Valk in tow as she was nearing the rocks.

Pumice Roofs Look Good, Easily Made

Roofs made of pumice, which is poured and troweled like concrete, have the neat appearance of shingle roofs, yet they cut the requirements for ceiling insulation in half.

Pumice weighs only one third as much as sand and gravel, so the roof structure which supports it need be no stronger than one designed for Mission tile.

A. C. McCoy of San Bernardino, Calif., pours such a roof in three by eight-foot sections.

TWO LAYERS

First he applies two layers of tar paper and liquid tar to the roof sheathing. Then, beginning at the eaves, he builds forms, notched at random points to give the appearance of shingles.

One-inch mesh wire is laid into the form and the pumice mix poured in and troweled. After it is set, another slab is poured beside it, followed by the overlapping slabs above.

Oakum is driven between the slabs and covered with mastic to make expansion joints. Color may be added to the pumice mix if desired.

Check Of Chimney Warned Necessary

If Defective Or Soot-Lined, Chimney Worst Fire Hazard

By Bob Scharff

A chimney is a necessity with any fuel-burning equipment. When properly designed and cared for, it will always give good service. But a chimney that is defective or lined with soot is the greatest single known cause of house fires.

No chimney should be allowed to go more than a year without inspection and cleaning.

A visual inspection of the chimney can be done with a flashlight and a mirror at the furnace clean-out door in the base. If there are thick deposits of soot, it obviously needs cleaning.

To clean the flue, stuff a burlap bag with excelsior and weight it down with two or three bricks. This is tied to one end of a rope and is lowered and raised several times in the flue. Be sure the bag is not so full that it might stick in the chimney.

COVER OPENING

If the chimney serves a fireplace, cover the fireplace opening with a piece of cloth hung from the mantel, to prevent soot and ashes from entering the room.

Professional chimney cleaners nowadays use vacuum cleaners to avoid dirtying the house.

Chemicals are not recommended for use in cleaning chimneys or heating equipment. Some have been found to be made of common salt, which is not effective in removing soot.

Other materials tested are oxidizing agents, which if applied to soot at high temperatures and in sufficient quantities may produce an explosion or intense uncontrolled combustion. The danger of fires from these chemical soot removers is great.

Once the chimney is clean, it should be inspected for leaks around the furnace connections.

If any of these are found, they should be cemented up with one part of sand to one part of cement.

To test the chimney for any possible leaks, start a fire in the stove, furnace or fireplace and when it is burning briskly, throw on some material that will cause smoke.

When the smoke from this appears, the top of the chimney should be covered with a board or piece of wet carpet. The smoke in the flue will then seek another exit and will disclose any leaks that may be in the masonry.

LOOSE MORTAR

Once a leak has been located, remove all the loose mortar around it with a sharp object such as an ice pick.

Remove all dust that remains in the joint with a stiff brush. Dampen the surrounding area and refill the crack with a cement mortar made of one part cement to three parts fine sand.

Chimneys serving gas-burning equipment require special attention because water vapor, formed by the combustion of gas fuel may condense and form diluted acids.

ACIDS MAY ATTACK

Without the protection of a flue liner these acids may attack both the mortar and the brick, eventually weakening the chimney.

Therefore, homes heated with gas should consult a chimney expert or local gas company on the condition of their chimney.

To avoid sparks flying out of a chimney top, and also to keep insects and small animals from climbing down the flue, a piece of wire screening should be built across the top of the flue and embedded in the chimney.

Be careful not to use a wire of too fine a mesh, because this may have a tendency to choke the draft. It also should be cleaned or replaced each year.

TRUSTFULNESS STILL LIVES

TUSCALOOSA, Ala.—(UP) —L. T. High noticed many people who parked in front of his place of business fumbling in their pockets for change to feed parking meters. He put $5 in small change in a cigar box, set it out and hung a sign telling shoppers to make their own change. A week later he counted the money — still exactly $5.

Time Out

By Dick Beddoes

HIT OFF THE GRID

Overlooked in the football tempest sweeping Edmonton this day is a small announcement which perched modestly near Tuesday's high school game last night.

It stipulated, inveighed Head linesman John Farina, chief of the Recreation Commission, and John Galanka, president of Vic students' Union . . .

The report was to that an outpouring for the Golden Bear Cup will contribute for the upkeep provided the Bruins as a united division.

Farina, so the story goes, was in earshot. And, it's alleged, he slapped the high school student on the chops in hearty fashion. It hurt. Galanka wound up crying.

★ ★ ★

THREE DOT STUFF

Edmonton will cross $25,000 from . . . profit . . . Thus . . . Edmonton . . . Eskimos . . . only the budget of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. . . .

★ ★ ★

Eskimos have so many ex-Toronto Argonauts that eastern newspapers have frequently referred to them as the "Edmonton-Argos." No fewer than nine of the Edmontons have seen service with Argo clubs in recent seasons. . . .

★ ★ ★

Tommy Ford, who has had a good season operating off the Bomber half line, is a former Toronto Balmy Beacher. He used to fraternize with such Eskimos as Doug Pyzer.

Said Bombers' model-T, Ford, who has never been on a senior championship club before: "Y' know, this is as far as I've ever got towards the Grey Cup."

Replied straightaway runner Pyzer: "This is as far as you'll go this year."

★ ★ ★

Athletes, like people have superstitions. His example, Jack Jacobs refused to have his picture taken last night, saying "I'll see you after the game tomorrow."

Edmonton's Morris Bailey, recipient of 67 passes for 1,060 yards this season, always wears a green pair of cowboy boots the day of a game. Barrell-chested Jim Quandamatteo slips on a "lucky" ring the night before a big one. . . .

★ ★ ★

Jacobs, summoning of an Indian Jatko-old-timer in the Bomber backfield, played with Washington Redskins. The story is that the handsome Creek Indian used to step out of a teepee before the kickoff in Redskin home games. . . .

Jacobs' special talent is punting, a rhore which involves him kicking the ball so high and far that it comes down with stardust on it. The mortality rate on footballs rose to the highest in Winnipeg's history this year, a consequence of Jacobs hooting them out of the ancient cowshed that is Osborne Stadium with ridiculous ease. . . .

★ ★ ★

Commenting on the recent rumor that he would leave Winnipeg this year to take over Regina Roughriders, Bomber coach Frank Larson explained that there had been some minor problems with the Bomber executive and that his contract, which expired next June, hasn't been renewed. "But my big problem now is to win the Grey Cup for Winnipeg," he said. Up till today he has advanced towards that objective in handsome fashion. . . .

The only notice scrawled on the blackboard in the Eskimo dressing room last night was: "Get Tough! . . .

Here's hoping. . . .

FAN FARE

GIVING OUT with victory yell in dressing room is St. Joseph's squad after Grade 7-8 win over Victoria Composite at Clarke Stadium last night for High School Senior Football league championship. Win gave St. Joe's clean sweep of city grid laurels, juniors having won junior championship last week. Much credit for victory can go to coach Steve Olander, wearing hat on right.

St. Joe's Edge Vic 7-6 To Cop School Grid Title

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Joe Christenson's fourth quarter single enabled St. Joseph's to defeat Victoria Composite 7-6 at Clarke Stadium last night and cop the High School Senior Football league championship, before 2,000 spirited fans.

First game of a twin-bill saw Eastwood's experienced juniors romp to an easy 10-1 win over coach Al Avery's Lacombe squad in an exhibition tussle.

Coach Steve Olander's well drilled gridders from St. Joseph's scored early in the game, a 4 yard pass from limping quarterback Roy Philion to end Ken Pugh good for a touchdown.

Con McGinnis converted to make it 6-0.

Victoria squared matters in the second quarter as fleet-footed Walt Sawchuk skirted around right end from the 11 yard strip to go over for a TD. Johnny Kondrosky converted to tie the game.

Outstanding player during the night was Vic tackle and linebacker, Mike (the Rock) Chykaliuk. Chykaliuk broke through time and again to nail St. Joseph's hard-hitting backfielders.

St. Joe's were able to breathe a sigh of relief in the third frame when Chykaliuk was banished from the game for slugging.

ST. JOE'S TO PLAY CALGARY GRIDDERS

St. Joseph's, newly crowned High School Football league champions, will meet Calgary's Central squad for the Alberta high school title at Calgary next Saturday.

Central scored an 8-0 triumph over Western to cop the Calgary title last night at Mewata Stadium before a large turnout of fans.

St. Joe's scraped through with a verdict over a battling Victoria Composite squad here last night. Provincial final will be a sudden-death affair.

FLYERS WIN 9-2

Witiuk Nets 4 In Regina Rout

Winger Steve Witiuk was tried and found wanting at the start of last season by Regina Caps. Released after a few games, the Winnipeg product headed for Kamloops, where he hooked on with Paul Thompson's Elks of the Mainline-Okanagan league.

And it so happens that being out adrift by the Reginans has rankled the winger with the brush cut, he more than got even at the Gardens last night.

It was Witiuk who scored four goals while acting Flyer boss to a crushing 9-2 victory over a Regina Capital team that had that 'DD' look about it in a big way.

In this case 'DD' stands for Disorganized and Disheartened.

★ ★ ★

Witiuk warmed slowly to the task of being the first sniper to score four times in a Western Canada league offering this season.

Doug Anderson and Ray Barry staked Flyers to a 2-0 edge in the opening period as Caps stayed within striking distance of the high-flying league leaders.

Lone goal of the middle frame came from the stick of Witiuk. He did the mopping up on a fine passing play with linemates Barry and Colin Kilburn.

Flyers ran their margin to 6-0 in the third frame. Elmer Kreller and rookie Lloyd Ferguson (2), being the marksmen, before Witiuk suddenly blazed into action to turn the game cold with two fast ones.

One Cap netminder was injured early on in the Regina game, three times in a row.

And those three Witiuk goals used up just a minute and 45 seconds of playing time. The first was on a scramble at the 2:00 mark. On the second, at 13:57, Hershey obligingly fanned.

★ ★ ★

Then Witiuk rang up his third consecutive counter, and fourth of the night, by scoring on a breakaway at 16:15.

By that time Flyers were so far ahead 9-0 was the score—the margin had become a shambles.

About the only thing in it after that was for Flyers to hang tough and provide goalie Ray Frederick with his first WCHL shutout.

It wasn't to be, though.

Both Lou Hauck and Larry Popein, former Moose Jaw junior, scored on Frederick in the last three minutes as Caps 'closed' the gap to 9-2.

★ ★ ★

Actually Frederick didn't do much to help his own cause. Hauck's shot to the strings appeared to go through his pads. Popein fooled him from well over the centre line.

The usual 7,500 fans sat in on the slaughter.

Esks, Bombers Meet In 1st Playoff Tilt

Edmonton will be in the best physical shape in six weeks. For the gang which carried the Eskimo banner to several early-season successes will be all there.

Shakes plans to start the following ends, Prather and Bailey; tackles, Durno and Valiquette; guards, Quandamatteo and Morris; centre, Brightwell; quarterback, Berry; halfbacks, King, Simon, Pyzer; wingback, Paffrath.

Said the Loquacious Lithuanian after a light drill last night:

"All we have to do to beat their ears off is play football. They are great opportunists and we daren't spot them a single point. Berry feels great and if our line plays like it has done all season we are as good as in."

Larson was not nearly so loquacious. Commented the tall, quiet man from Minnesota: "After chasing his charges through a brief workout last night: "The two week layoff we've had did much to heal the hurts many of our stalwarts had. Buddy Tinsley is our only serious casualty and he didn't make the trip. Otherwise, we are ready."

Tinsley, a fine tackle, will be replaced by Ed Henke, rugged 220-pound youth who played end all season. He is a very tough character defensively.

Bomber starters will be: ends, Ron Vaccher and Joe Aguirre; tackles, Henke and Glenn Johnson; guards, Jim McPherson and Gerry DeLeeuw; centre, John Brown; quarterback, Jack Jacobs; halfbacks, Tom Casey, Johnny Stroppa, Tommy Ford; wingback, Ian Gibb.

3-Way Tie Forced In Carspiel Play

A couple of curling giants were socking it to each other this morning on the final day of the Associated Commercial Travellers' car bonspiel.

They were Grant Watson of Winnipeg and Frenchy D'Amour from Trail, B.C. They teed-off at 8.30 this morning in a sudden-death playoff to declare the winner of the B Section in round-robin play for the autos.

Winner was scheduled to meet A Section king, Leo Johnson, of Winnipeg, at noon today in the first of best-of-three series for the cars. Second game goes at 4 o'clock this afternoon and the third, if necessary, is scheduled for 3 p.m. tomorrow.

All games are being played at the Edmonton Curling rink.

HAD IT EASY

Johnson had it easy in A Section, winning five straight. But Watson and D'Amour were locked with the Campbell brothers from Avonlea, Saskatchewan, for leadership in B Division when the five-game round-robin was completed last night.

All had won four games and suffered one loss.

D'Amour won the draw, hence securing a bye into this morning's sudden-death match. Watson had to handle full with the Campbell Bros. before topping them 7-6 in 10 ends by agreement. The final rock in this contest was thrown at 3 o'clock this morning.

CAUSED DEADLOCK

Watson, with tall, poker-faced Jimmy Guy throwing last rocks, was responsible for causing the deadlock in B Section. For on the last draw yesterday he rouled D'Amour 5-0 to give the Frenchman his first defeat in round-robin play. Meanwhile, the Campbells stayed alive by trimming Art Simpson of Bassano 9-8.

D'Amour won the cars last year, defeating Johnson in the final. Could be a similar windup this time.

The People vs. Anderson

If the conductor of this alleged column hasn't a malignant case of tin-ear after last night, he can henceforth be considered immune.

How that phone did ring . . . and all because a lot of the citizens were browned off over the handling of the ticket sale for tonight's Eskimo-Bomber scuffle in Clarke Stadium.

★ ★ ★ ★

"What's all that guff Anderson (Al Anderson, Eskimo manager) was shooting us about looking after the little guy . . . the guy on the street?", Austin McGhie wanted to know.

★ ★ ★ ★

As were quite a number of others who lined up at Mike's yesterday morning, McGhie identified himself as a fellow who hasn't missed a game all year." As each contest came along he plowed $5.50 into the Eskimo cause, which outlay took care of seats for himself and wife. There were extras, too.

"Now when I call at Mike's this morning what do they offer me? Two seats in the south end.

"Why didn't Anderson follow through on that look after the small guy stuff?" he fumed.

★ ★ ★ ★

Neither was Vince Deering, 8019-89 street, any longer in love with ticket-sale arrangements for Eskimo games.

"What happened to the 7,000 reserved seats?" he barked. "There wasn't a single one went on sale this morning.

"It's a pretty raw deal, after the way we've supported the team all season," he went on. "Lots of people feel the way I do. All that hooey about playing the game at night so as to look after the regular customers."

Mr. Deering was, you see, running a temperature.

★ ★ ★ ★

And that's how it went for quite a while, with the little guys' taking a lot of healthy socks at the ticket deal.

★ ★ ★ ★

If manager Anderson was perturbed about his rapidly declining popularity rating he failed to show it when informed of the telephone barrage.

Mr. Anderson has one of those thick hides, fortunately for him now that he's mixed up in the ticket-disposal end of the football business.

But if he wasn't for reaching for the gas-pipe over the situation, neither was he unsympathetic toward those who had a hankering after reserved seats, only to wind up in left field.

"There are," he pointed out, "2,100 seats in the west stand and 4,000 across the way, making 6,100 reserved seats in all.

"Of these more than 3,000 are held by either Touch Down Club members or season ticket holders. As previously agreed upon we permitted holders of these seats to purchase double their allotment for tonight's game.

"That took care of the reserved sections."

★ ★ ★ ★

Neither was the Eskimo manager the slightest bit apologetic. "After all," he hit out at his hecklers, "they're the people we got $25,000 out of last spring."

To his credit Anderson moved quickly to provide additional reserved seats. Thus it was that the 2,000 end pews suddenly had a $2.20 tag hung on them ("and the price upped," as one caller remarked jelly.)

As well the Esk manager-ticket hustler has arranged for benches to be placed on the cinder track that skirts the playing field. These will take care of another 1,000, and what difference if a few plays roll right over top the occupants.?

★ ★ ★ ★

The Knothole section remains undisturbed (fortunately for even that thick Anderson hide) and high school students will be able to crack the gates at their usual reduced prices.

In the meantime, we ask, where are the pessimists who said only two years ago that "football'll never go in Edmonton. The people won't pay the shot for one thing.

BILLY ROSE . . . Turns Author.

BY BILLY ROSE

Curlers Require A Proper Start

(This is the first of a series of articles on curling, written especially for the Bulletin by famed curler Billy Rose, former Canadian champion, of Sedgewick. Articles will run daily).

First I must say I am grateful for the opportunity to approach so many sportsmen and sportswomen, and to present my interpretations of the "Roarin' Game of Curling."

I have always felt that curlers and beginners especially, did not receive the proper start and continued encouragement which nearly all major sports get.

Imagine what would happen to a baseball player swinging a bat for the first time with only five minutes coaching! Yet this condition exists in nearly all curling clubs.

Many times have I seen a beginner start off his first game with only a hazy idea of what to do. It is remarkable how adept a beginner becomes in one season under these conditions.

To the expert curlers, I wish to say forgive me if I dwell on the elementary features lengthly. I am convinced this is essential in helping this season's beginners off to a good start.

In Monday's article I will deal with the 'game itself' but for now I believe it to be important for you to know the curling language. So I give you a start on a 'glossary of curling terms.'

RINK: Any sheet of ice at least 138 feet long and 13 feet wide.

HOUSE: Designated by a circle six feet in diameter with centre at the Tee.

TEE: Exact centre of the house.

HACK: Usually a wooden fixture with a recessed footprint to give a purchase to the foot when throwing. Distance from hack to Tee is 42 yards.

CURLING STONE: Also called curling rock, or rock. A circular shaped granite stone with handle attached weighing no more than 44 pounds.

HOG SCORE: A line at right 21 feet distant from the Tee. Rocks must completely cross the hog angles to the length of the rink score for hog line, or strike a stone already in play, or be removed from the ice. This is called a hog.

BCC Favors Esks to Win

A lot of players on the Edmonton Eskimos and Winnipeg Blue Bombers are what they call 'crocked up.' It is a physical condition resulting from bruises suffered on the football field.

Such was not the case with The Brain this morning. Instead, the football expert who labors for the Bulletin's Casual Choices, Inc., was what is referred to as 'tanked up.'

It, too, is a physical condition. The Brain will testify after stumbling out of the powder room of a Jasper Avenue Athletic Club early this morning.

As a consequence he was loose as a goose he stumbled into the BCC offices. His weekly gridiron selections also were loose, as follows:

Big Four

Montreal Alouettes over Toronto Argonauts; Hamilton Tiger-Cats over Ottawa Rough Riders.

OHU Final

Toronto Balmy Beach over Sarnia Imperial.

Eastern Intercollegiate

McGill Redmen over Toronto Varsity Blues; Western Mustangs over Queen's Golden Gaels.

Western Final

It is with considerable apprehension that The Brain, who is known as the Cottage Kid because of certain peculiar habits, hazards the following guess.

Edmonton Eskimos by a concerted bootful 900.

B'nai B'rith Starts Curling Tomorrow

One of the fastest growing curling groups in the city will get underway tomorrow at the Edmonton Curling club's rink when the B'nai B'rith club opens this season's play.

Feature of the day's play will be the President vs. Vice-President match, with club proxy Shim Lazkin opposing Bert Shubin.

Started in 1947, when 14 rinks were the total membership, the B'nai B'rith now boasts 168 curlers registered this year.

The 42 rinks have been divided into three divisions and all games will be played at the Edmonton club, Sundays.

Trophies have been obtained for each individual winner and a six-team round-robin will be played by the winners and runners-up of each section to decide club champion and recipient of the Fred Podersky Memorial trophy.

Leafs' Trip In Jeopardy

Lethbridge Maple Leafs will represent Canada at the world hockey championship in Paris next spring only if they can finance their European trip by exhibition games, it was announced here yesterday by Dr. W. G. Hardy.

Mortons, Varsity Cubs Win Senior Ladies Cage Tilts

Varsity Cubs and Mortons won Senior Ladies' Basketball league games at Athabasca Gym last night. Cubs stopped CYO 25-19 while Mortons crushed Starlets 48-26.

D. Moser sparked CYO with eight points while Evelyn Linke popped in six points for Varsity. G. Gibson topped the Mortons marksmen with 16, followed by Denise Calloway with 12 and Sylvia Grant with 12.

At Varsity gym, Jim Milne sparked Waterloo Meteors to a 68-48 win over University of Alberta Golden Bears in an exhibition contest.

Milne rattled the hoops for 12 points while Jarry Hill Price Meteors playmaker, and Gordon Pearce netted nine points each for the winners' cause.

Don MacIntosh, Golden Bear rookie from Calgary, sank six field goals to share high man honors with Milne.

Golden Bears—Southerin (4), Magnus (2), Higgins (5), MacIntosh (12), Tomkins (2), Nelson, Anderson (5), McLennan (2), Jenkey (4), Erickson (2), Shantz (4) — Total 43.

Meteors—Pearce (9), Milne (12), Hill (7), Shuckmith (6), Dixon (4), Clarke (6), Milne (12), Linton (3), Crawford (3), Kimball (1), Robson. Total 68.

Referees—Ed Tomtek and Bill Nash.

TAKING CUE from Edmontonians' increasing interest in sidepocket art, Recreation Academy has installed custom-built billiard and snooker tables at renovated billiard hall. Austin Ford, Frank Barber, and billiard room manager Henry Prefontaine play game of snooker.

Academy Tables Are Custom-Built

Custom-built billiard and snooker tables—of a progressive design unique in Canada—are featured in the Recreation Bowling Academy Limited's new billiard hall, which opened today.

The billiard hall is the highspot in a three-month renovation recently completed at the academy, 10050-101 street, following a fire which damaged part of the building last June 24.

In addition to the re-designing of the building, the floor has been treated to 32 bowling alleys with a special non-brittle varnish.

The billiard room, 88 feet by 52, is equipped with tables manufactured by the Calgary firm of Hasfeld Limited.

COMPLETE DEPARTURE

Virtually unobserved by the sports-going Canadian public, which pays up to $ 50 pledge for one of hockey in Calgary, the tables are a complete departure from presentday designs.

Most obvious feature of the tables is the cover cloth, which is an grey cloth instead of the conventional green.

The new color keeps views and has gained the appreciation of players and others who have viewed it.

Available today for billiard players, Simmons fluorescent units, ranged for on instead of the flood of illumination, supply even light over each table.

PLENTY OF ROOM

There is a radius of about six feet of space around each table.

Additional lighting is provided by eight large windows equipped with curtains in a flowery design.

Owned by J. O. Prefontaine, the new billiard hall is by far the most modern in the city, and rates with the best in Canada.

Construction work done by Poole Construction Co. Ltd., and interior decorating by Dewar Cawston & Stevenson, architects. Painting is by Keeler Painting and Decorating Limited.

The tables weigh 2400 pounds and can be levelled to a high degree of accuracy by means of devices installed in each of the four legs.

JACKS IN LEGS

A level is placed on the table and two jacks in each leg are operated by crank which runs a screw that raises and a pedestal is levelled.

Tables have mahogany sides and walnut rails. There are two sump ports at each end of the table, so that rests are always off the floor when down.

Other features of the hall are the new private cue lockers which may be rented by the year to store personal cues of regular patrons.

Walls in the hall are finished in plaster, with end walls in Swedish red and side walls in orange color. Ceiling is in grey acoustical plaster which will cut noise down to a minimum. Brown and green linoleum strips furnish floor covering.

COAST UNION TO MAKE APPEAL AGAINST PURGE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4—(CP)—The Vancouver Trades and Labor Congress announced last night that it will reorganize a civic employes local to thwart "Communist" control.

The unprecedented labor manoeuvre came on the heels of the suspension yesterday of twelve executive members, including acting president Thure Anderson.

Carl Berg of Edmonton, vice-president of the TLC of Canada ordered the suspensions.

Berg said the reorganization also stemmed from an incident here last night when he was barred from attending a meeting of Local 28, Civic Employes' Union. Berg said he had been invited to attend and speaek at the meeting before the suspensions.

He charged that the executive board of Local 28 "ignored" the suspension of the two executives —banned on Communist party-line grounds.

The order was authorized by TLC headquarters in Ottawa. Secretary Jack Phillips and business agent Donald Guise were suspended from the 1,600-member union earlier.

Phillips and Guise were also barred from the national convention of the TLC in Montreal because of their alleged Communist views. Both were at last night's meeting.

Sgt. Bernie Nicholson says traffic constables should have personality and tact. How about traffic tickets colored to suit paint jobs on the cars they go on?

★ ★ ★ ★

Poor jokes aside, Sgt. Bernie has something and I want to say right here that Bernie is one traffic cop who practices what he preaches. It's almost a pleasure getting a ticket from Bernie.

Help yourself to an orchid sergeant.

★ ★ ★ ★

George Cristall, the only man in Alberta holding dual citizenship, (and did he need it this fall), in both Edmonton and Calgary, is in our town for the big game.

★ ★ ★ ★

He's going to wear one of those Calgary Stetsons and for the life of me I don't know why.

George thinks there are just three breeds of horses; win, place and show.

★ ★ ★ ★

Sometimes I think Ben Franklin should have kept on flying kites instead of starting the Saturday Evening Post.

On page 56 of this week's issue, the Post has one of those big double page ads about a nifty car that pulled a 35-foot trailer all the way from Seattle to Fairbanks, Alaska.

That part is just fine. Some of the rest of it is just bunk.

★ ★ ★ ★

I mean the part that has a map showing the route of the car, from Seattle to Prince George to Dawson Creek.

That might be all right too although I'm assured there's no road connecting Prince George with Dawson Creek. It's this quote from the driver that gets under a fellow's skin:

"Fifty miles north of Edmonton, Alberta, we hit 80 miles of the sticky mud we had heard so much about." Of course the car just walked right along, etc., etc.

★ ★ ★ ★

Now it is possible that the fellow went through 80 miles of mud 50 miles north of Edmonton. But he certainly didn't do it if he went from Prince George to Dawson Creek as the map indicates.

★ ★ ★ ★

When will people in the good old U.S.A. decide to learn at least a little about their good neighbors to the north and the country they live in?

★ ★ ★ ★

Stork scoop. I'm going to try and chisel a cigar from John Baisley of the Mac Hotel staff. That's because Mr. Baisley is a daddy today of a bonnie baby girl.

Birth ensued in the Royal Alexandra last evening. Weight, (she's practically grown up already), eight pounds, 12 ounces.

That makes three girls in a row at the Baisley house. There's sure to be a boy one of these times. Mrs. Baisley is doing fine.

Trustees Elect Rae Chairman

New Official Will Hold Post For Two Years

Robert H. Rae, Edmonton Public School Board trustee for five years, was elected chairman of the board at the annual inaugural meeting held in the civic block yesterday.

He will hold this position for a two-year term.

In expressing his appreciation to members of the board, Mr. Rae said that he would do his best to carry out the good work started by retiring chairman J. C. Macdonald.

Mr. Macdonald, who served the school board for five years, one as trustee and four as chairman, retired Oct. 24.

INTRODUCED

At the meeting, H. G. Turner, board secretary, introduced R. C. Cummins, new school board trustee who will fill the position left open by the appointment of Mr. Rae.

Mr. Cumming, 11346-75 avenue, an air force veteran and resident of Edmonton for four years, was elected by acclamation in the civic election.

Mr. Cummins, mortgage inspector of Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, was formerly president of the Kinsmen Club here.

CHAIRMEN NAMED

Committee chairmen selected were: school management and health, Mrs. P. C. Butterworth; property, H. B. Fowler; conference, J. W. K. Shortreed; finance, Dr. G. H. Brown. Dr. Brown was also selected representative to the city health board.

Mr. Cummins will be representative on the Recreation Commission during 1950-51 term.

Yesterday it was decided that board meetings throughout the coming year would continue to be held on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

City Doctor Is Honored

One of Edmonton's outstanding surgeons, Dr. Max E. Geisinger, FRCS (C), 9607-178 street, was made a fellow of the American College of Surgeons at a clinical congress held in Boston.

Dr. Geisinger is a graduate of the University of Alberta and is a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Canada.

Tax Continued On Minerals

The eight-mill tax levied by the provincial government on the assessed value of mineral production will be continued for the 1950 tax year.

The announcement is made today in the current issue of the Alberta gazette.

Minerals found in producing areas are subject to the mill rate tax.

Convicted Of Assaulting Boy

Found guilty of indecent assault, John L. Dougan, Edmonton elevator operator, was sentenced to 6 months imprisonment Friday in Supreme Court.

According to evidence presented before Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee, Dougan assaulted a 3½-year-old boy at a regimental picnic near Winterburn last July 23.

1,596 Cases

A total of 1,596 cases of scarlet fever occurred in Alberta to the end of September this year. The outbreak continued through October, provincial health department officials report, but no official tabulation of cases for last month has been completed.

GOOD OLD DAYS RECALLED

RECALLING GOOD old days are two old grads returning to the University of Alberta for the Alumni Homecoming this weekend. Helping Dr. E. H. Gowan, Science '25, (left), and Mel Fowler, Education '41, get in mood with flapper costumes are co-eds Rosemary Gerhart (seated), and Madeleine Turcott.

NAMED GRAIN INSPECTOR

Arthur M. Creighton, 7706 Jasper, has been appointed a federal government grade 3 grain inspector, Mr. J. Concacher, grain inspector in charge at Edmonton, announced Friday.

Mr. Creighton's elevation to one of the senior inspecting posts at Edmonton follows the retirement last month of John Pike, whom he succeeds. The new inspector grade 3 has been on the staff of the Board of Trade Commissioners in Edmonton since 1925.

Abracaesbra, a magical word written in the form of a triangle, was used by the ancients as a spell against evil.

Audience Taken Back 25 Years By U Artists

University of Alberta students turned back the clock a quarter of a century last night in a rollicking campus welcome to the U of A class of '25.

Last night, at a variety show, "Now and Then," they made the "then" of 1925 seem far more interesting than the "now" of 1950.

The old grads obviously enjoyed every minute of a very well rehearsed and produced show.

All 12 acts were original and entertaining. And some of the talent came close to the best professional standards. Cast as a pair of straw-hatted wolves of the twenties, Al Armstrong and Ron Stephens put over a top-notch pantomime, patter and vocal routine.

IMPERSONATION

MC Dick MacDonald also impressed with his pantomime and patter act, even managing to inject a few changes in "The Never-changing Female," that well-worn male imitation of a woman dressing.

"Charleston Capers" brought on a bevy of six of the flap-happiest flappers ever to gambol their way through a 1920s scene.

In the solo field, Nancy Collinge brought down the house with her lusty renditions of three humorous monologues.

The rest of the cast—a chorus under Bill Egbert, pianist Bill Sigurdson and clarinetist Shirley Stinson, plus a variety of instrumentalists and singers—were uniformly good.

With registration of graduates completed today, the Alumni will be led on a series of tours and receptions climaxed by the "Club 25" dance in Athabasca Hall Saturday night.

Tanker Named After Oilfield Christened

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., Nov. 4. — (CP) — Imperial Leduc, the world's largest fresh-water tanker, was launched today and christened by Mrs. N. E. Tanner, wife of Alberta's mines minister.

A similar ceremony will be held at Port Arthur Nov. 18, when a sister ship, Imperial Redwater, will be launched and christened by Mrs. C. D. Howe, wife of Canada's trade minister.

Both are named after leading Alberta oil fields. They will carry crude oil to Ontario refineries from Superior, Wis., eastern terminus of the 1,127-mile pipeline from the Edmonton oil fields to Lake Superior.

The ships are being built by Pipe Line Tankers, Ltd., at a cost of nearly $8,000,000 and will be chartered by Imperial Oil, Ltd., for 15 years.

They carry a crew of 36 and have an estimated capacity of 5,000,000 barrels of crude oil during a shipping season.

The tankers are 620 feet long and 66 feet wide.

Truckers Overworked Board Rules

10-Hour Work Day Set As Maximum

A "get tough" policy against provincial trucking firms working their employes too long hours will be followed by the Board of Industrial Relations following conviction of a local oil equipment company in city police court.

The board secured convictions against the Keegant Drilling company for working their employes too long hours and failing to keep true and correct records. The company was fined $25 and costs on three charges and ordered to pay employes $1,160 in overtime pay by Magistrate McCulla.

DRIVER DIES

The board began action against the company, April 12, and their prosecution of the case was spurred by the death of a company employe, Ronald Nichol, 19, of 10721 - 117 street, who was killed while driving a company truck between Edmonton and Chip Lake July 22.

A coroner's inquest ruled that "lack of rest and sleep were the contributory causes of the death We, the jury, find that Ronald Nicholl was very tired and had been working long hours without sufficient rest."

PUBLIC PROTECTION

K. A. Puga, chairman of the Board of Industrial Relations, stated, "The board is reluctant to prosecute, but where it is dealing with the safety of the public, we must act in the public's safety. We must protect the trucker and the public must enjoy safety on the highways.

"Tired and overworked truckers are a hazard on the highways. The board will pursue a stemer policy in the future against companies overworking their employes."

Mr. Pugh stated that since the prosecution began last April, the board has handed down a decision that truckers must work only 10 hours a day and only 50 a week. Every driver must have eight hours rest before driving again.

Shipments Of Grain Drop

The lake grain harvest in Alberta and the damage to stored grain the weather . . . reduced to seven the grain ships passing through Edmonton lock to October.

According to the monthly report of the Board of Transport commissioners, 2417 carloads of grain passed through Edmonton during October, 1950, as compared to 4,015 carloads in October of last year.

The grain was made up of 1,029 carloads of wheat and 1,388 carloads of coarse grains, consisting mainly of oats and barley.

The proportion of low-grade grain is much higher this year than last because of the ravages caused by bad weather on this year's harvest.

Air Service In 60 Days

Air service linking Edmonton, Lloydminster, North Battleford and Saskatoon will commence in 60 days, Grant W. G. McConachie, president of Canadian Pacific Air Lines, stated at Montreal yesterday.

The new Canadian Pacific service links existing routes in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

No direct through service will be provided between Edmonton and Saskatoon, in line with government policy to permit no competition with Trans-Canada Airlines, which has been granted rights as sole trans-continental service.

$160 For Suffolk Ram Tops Livestock Prices

Sale of a purebred Suffolk ram, owned by Albert Matejka, of Poca, for $160, topped all prices yesterday as 293 sheep were auctioned in the Fall Livestock Show at the Stock pavilion.

Registered as Matejka 54E, and winner of the Suffolk ram championship in the show, the animal was purchased by Lloyd E. Wilson of North Edmonton.

Highest price paid for a ewe was $115. This sum went to W. R. Cornish, Mannville, for his champion Suffolk ewe, Murrayfield 12D. Buyer was N. J. Shopland, Rochester.

Yesterday's sales, auctioned by Don E. Ball, Edmonton; J. W. Durno, Calgary; and Archie Boyce Olds, brought the show to a close after a four-day stand.

NEW PRICE MARK

In line with the trend established a day earlier in the swine sales, average prices for all breeds of sheep with the exception of Cheviot ewes, again eclipsed 1949 returns yesterday.

Largest revenue came from the Suffolks, of which 88 ewes and 73 rams were placed on auction.

The ewes brought their owners a total of $4,482.50, for an average price of $50.24. Price last year was $38.77. Rams sold for a total of $4,177.50, averaging $57.23, against a 1949 value of $41.96.

HAMPSHIRES

Seventeen Hampshire rams were sold for $690, averaging $40.59, compared with $37.50 last year. Hampshire ewes, five in number, sold for $206, or an average of $41.20 against 1949's $27.58 take.

Other sales:

Oxford rams (four sold): $227.50 for an average of $56.88, against $24.17; Oxford ewes (two sold): $50 for an average of $25, against $15; Cheviot rams (12 sold): $417.50 for an average of $34.79, against $33.93; Cheviot ewes (two sold): $57.50 for an average of $28.75, against $38.75.

ARMY 'SIGNALS' DAY OBSERVED IN CITY

Edmontonians had a chance to see the main cog in the Canadian Army's North West Territories and Yukon Radio Signals System today as army signals day was observed across the Dominion.

The big signal station, situated about six miles west of Edmonton on 118 avenue, is a mass of gadgets and equipment 300 foot towers.

Handling messages to and from 23 northern stations is only one of the signal centre's jobs. It also carries a complete schedule of CBC radio broadcasts to northern outposts, looks after boats travelling in the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions and takes care of aircraft communications in the far north.

Weather reports from the Department of Transport outpost in the north are also handled by the important army station.

If it were necessary, the station is capable of transmitting both ways with any part of the world and could also communicate with three different stations at the same time.

Chrustawka Shares Lead

Another voice has been added to the stellar cast of "Rio Rita," the Edmonton Civic Opera production scheduled for Nov. 29-30.

Musical Director Mrs. J. B. Carmichael announced this week that Ernest Chrustawka has been chosen to alternate in the romantic lead part of "Jim," the swashbuckling Ranger Captain. He will share the part with Don Wilson.

The female lead is also being shared, newcomers Hilda Thompson and Jean Isaac portraying the part of the glamorous Rita on alternate nights.

The sparkling musical is rapidly being whipped into shape, with soloists, chorus and ballet undergoing strenuous rehearsals weekly.

CHFA Starts French Language Drama Series

A new French-speaking dramatic series featuring local talent made its debut over CHFA last night.

Producer-director Gerald Baril announced it will be heard throughout the winter every Friday at 9:30. Baril has been auditioning local actors for the past few weeks and is drawing on his own experience of French plays in forming his company's repertoire.

"They are mostly French-Canadian plays from Quebec but later we hope to present some by local authors," he said.

Bing Keeps Handy To His Sports

Bing Crosby plans to do his radio shows from San Francisco at least through November 15. The flag ship is in close proximity to his recreational activities.

He can train in from his ranch near Elko, Nev., in a few hours, or drive his car in some three hours from his favorite golf course at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Hopalong's Wife Avoids Spotlight

Paramount officials asked Mrs. William Boyd to appear in a forthcoming picture her husband is making with Bing Crosby, but the former screen actress wife of "Hopalong Cassidy" declined.

"I'll just continue to be the woman behind the scenes in 'Hopy's life," she said.

Fraser Now Accepted National Responsibility

The Fraser River is now accepted as a national responsibility and national opportunity, according to Bruce Hutchison in his latest book, "The Fraser" (Clarke, Irwin and Co.)

Dealing with all phases of the mighty river—its history, physical aspects and potentialities—Hutchison has added substantially to the history of British Columbia.

He estimates the river can supply six-million horsepower of electricity, more than half the amount now being generated in Canada. This alone, he writes, should be at least the second factor in the Canadian industrial economy. The Laurentian valley rates first.

Tracing the Fraser from its source near the Yellowhead Pass, where melting snows and glaciers start a tiny stream of water that ends as a boiling torrent of fury, Hutchison calls the river savage, untamed and alone.

No ships trace their way beyond the quiet waters in the Fraser valley, and the river is an enemy to man and animal alike. He tells how boatmen, prospectors and adventurers all fought the river—and lost.

ECONOMIC THEME

But Hutchison's real goal in writing "The Fraser" appears to be economic. He sees the future of British Columbia and Canada linked about this powerful river.

Nearly two million horsepower is available in a drop of 1,280 feet in the long reaches between Prince George and Lytton. About 3,700,000 horsepower is also lying dormant in possible diversions to tributaries flowing to the middle B.C. coast and thousands more in the Fraser's mountain tributaries.

"The Fraser" is the 42nd in the "Rivers of America" series and fourth on Canadian rivers. Other authors have given us "The Saskatchewan", "The Mackenzie" and "The St. Lawrence".

THE AUTHOR

The author of "The Fraser", Bruce Hutchison, is a veteran newspaperman and was raised on the west coast. He has served on the Victoria Times, Vancouver Sun and The Province, and has been associate editor of Winnipeg Free Press since 1945.

He is also the author of "The Unknown Country", "Canada and Her People" and a novel, "The Hollow Men."

NBC's 'Big Show' Heavy With Talent

Promotion Also Promises Novel Concept Of Radio

By Maury Soward

A radio extravaganza to finish all radio extravaganzas debuts this Sunday on NBC at 4 p.m.

Appropriately entitled "The Big Show," it is a full 90 minutes of comedy, music and drama. Mistress of ceremonies is Broadway's first lady, Tallulah Bankhead, supported by a 44-piece orchestra and 16-voice chorus under Meredith Willson, a battery of topnotch writers led by Goodman Ace and the best in guest-star talent.

The new program is supposed to present an entirely novel concept of radio. Perhaps it will, but the list of this week's guest stars alone should guarantee a sizeable audience.

They are Fred Allen, Portland Hoffa, Jimmy Durante and Danny Thomas in the comedy department; Ethel Merman and the Broadway company of "Call Madam" in an excerpt from their new hit musical; Jose Ferrer in a dramatization from his new motion picture, "Cyrano De Bergerac;" and vocalists Mindy Carson and Frankie Laine in live versions of their most popular records.

An original play by Joseph Schull is the feature of the CBC Wednesday Night program. Entitled "The Bridge," it's set in the France of June, 1946 and concerns the maladjustments left behind by the re-treating Germans. At 9 p.m. on CBX.

Friday evening's Theatre Hour production is Mary of Scotland by the American dramatist, Maxwell Anderson.

Basically, this drama of the sixteenth century Queen of the Scots is a story of female rivalry in which John Knox played a prominent part. It covers the period between Mary's return to Scotland from France and her imprisonment in England.

★ ★ ★

NBC has announced its coverage of the American Nov. 7 elections for Senators, Governors and Representatives. A full length running news and commentary program will be featured with results and trends as quickly as they come in.

Coral And Remington Labels Invade Canada

Two new labels are hitting the already glutted record market across Canada this month—Coral and Remington.

Both issued by the Rogers Majestic Radio Corp., the two labels have been available in the United States for some time, but arrangements to press them in Canada were made only recently.

The company claims its Remington long-play recordings "play up to and including 15,000 kilocycles almost one-third higher than any record now before the public of the world." This is a startling claim in view of the excellence of some of the LP records already being used by established companies such as London RCA Victor and Columbia.

If Rogers-Majestic's claim is true, it means the absolutely perfect record is here, since audibility of the human ear stops with approximately 15,000 kilocycles.

POPULAR

Songstress Fran Warren has a possible hit parade disc in "Look to the Rainbow" and "My Silent Love" (RCA Victor) . . . Spike Jones' latest is "Baby Buggy Boogie" and "Molasses, Molasses" (RCA Victor) . . . Arthur Godfrey is not as good a singer as he is a comic on the air in "Down By the Old Mill Stream" and "O Joe" (Columbia) . . .

Jimmy Dorsey and his lads give an excellent Dixieland jazz treatment to "Let a Smile Be Your Umbrella" and the oldie, "In A Little Spanish Town" (Columbia) . . . On the sweeter side Sammy Kaye's "Harbor Lights" and "Sugar Sweet" are excellent (Columbia) . . .

Dick Jurgens gives the waning boogie class of music a boost in his version of "Cincinnati Dancing Pig" and turns sweet in a waltzy "Patricia" (Columbia) . . . "Adequate" is the best that can be said about Billy Eckstine's latest "Blue Christmas" and "The Lonely Shepherd" (MGM) . . . Ditto on Dinah Shore's performances in "Don't Rock The Boat, Dear" and "It's Easy To Remember" (Columbia).

The best LP jazz album to hit the market in weeks is Columbia's "From Austin High Comes Jazz," by Bud Freeman and his Famous Chicagoans. The best in "Muskrat Ramble," one of eight tunes on the disc, is terrific.

Vatra Evening Date Changed

The evening concert of the "Vatra" Male Voice Ukrainian Choir, originally scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until Monday night.

The famous European choral group will now be heard this afternoon at 3 p.m. and Monday at 8:30 p.m. in the Sales Pavilion, sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Consisting largely of immigrant members from the original "Vatra" chorus which toured post-war Europe, the choir will be making its first North American appearance in Edmonton. Then it leaves for a tour of the United States, Canada and possibly Mexico with stops at such famed halls as Massey Hall in Toronto and Carnegie Hall in New York.

Conductor of the choir is Prof. Leo Turkevich, former musical director of the Lemberg Opera House in pre-war Polish Ukraine.

FIERY CARMEN MAKES APPEARANCE IN "RIO RITA"

BELOVED GYPSY CARMEN steps from the famous opera of that name for a brief appearance in musical comedy production "Rio Rita." Carmen was presented by Edmonton Civic Opera Society last year with Noreen Bristow in the lead role. Miss Bristow will add "Carmen's" vivacious beauty and melodic opera aria to the presentation of "Rio Rita." Miss Bristow, well-known in Edmonton for her singing accomplishments, has studied widely in the United States.

ROMANTIC RIO SETTING FOR MUSICAL

DULCET TONES of Don Wilson's baritone voice will carry character of "Jim" in [illegible] "Rio Rita" to be presented by Edmonton Civic Opera Society Nov. 22 to 25. Don will play love with "Rita" Hilda Thompson Wednesday, Friday, Saturday.

Local Artists To Appear In Musical Here

With numerous successes chalked on the wall of local fame, Edmonton Civic Opera Society will present a musical comedy-ballet version of "Rio Rita" this month.

As their annual fall production, Rio Rita will be staged at the Strand Theatre under the musical direction of Mrs. J. B. Carmichael.

Show will be held Nov. 22, 23, 24, evenings only . . . and on the 25th a matinee will be held as well as an evening performance.

Local artists with imported costumes and locally devised scenery and properties will be featured.

Ballet Added To Production For New Beauty

Waving her baton of achievement and authority, Mrs. J. B. Carmichael is whipping "Rio Rita" into showshape.

An ambitious production, the musical comedy-ballet will be smoothed into acting success by T. W. Dalkin. Imelda Pepin-Olsen is director of choral work.

Ballet is under the direction of Laine Mets and Grant Strate. Miss Mets, who studied ballet in Germany . . . and starred as a performer of the Kaiser Marina Theatre of Estonia, is imparting grace, rhythm, expression to the Rio Rita [illegible] with the help of Grant Strate.

GOLD-BRAIDED GENERAL PURSUES MAID

VETERAN MEMBER of Civic Opera Society, Rob ert Eby, will sing role of General Romeo Josetito Estevan in Rio Rita production. Throughout the musical, he pursues sweet-toned "Rita" Jean Isaac, with romantic intentions. Mexican general's role is one of heaviest in the musical.

AMBITIOUS PRODUCTION FEATURES LOCAL ARTISTS

ROMANCE of music, dancing, colorful costumes, combined with story-rich dialogue, adds up to a promising performance of "Rio Rita" at month's end. Second pair of "Jim" and "Rita" are Jean Isaac and Ernest Chrzanowski. They will perform Thursday evening and at the Saturday matinee. Jim and Rita provide greater part of romantic "love" interest in musical comedy.

Shoppers Rampage About Food Costs

By Bea Thrifty

"Nobody buys food on the installment plan!"

That's a reaction to the recently imposed federal credit regulations . . . when I questioned a few homemakers here 'n there.

They're all "het up" about problem of curbing food costs and mumbling, grumbling, rumbling about "women should be running this country."

"If it didn't cost us so much to eat . . . we wouldn't have to buy everything else on the installment plan!"

But the gals have a point there . . . don't you agree!

If your good man says "well dear . . . what expensive gadget is your heart set on this year for Christmas?"

Fool him and have an answer ready.

How about the brand-new $29.50 table-top deep fryers that look something like a toaster but cook doughnuts, fish, potatoes, croquettes, chops, popcorn, chicken, fritters and an endless roster of other delectables.

An automatic thermostatic control governs the heat of the cooking oil or fat . . . and assures even, through cooking . . . and no sogginess or greasiness either.

How about that?

For goodness sake, don't ruin your turnips by cooking them in salted water. Salt destroys their natural sweetness . . . add your seasoning at the table.

(I trust you managed the pun).

Little New York man who's had a busy hundred days or so has popped to the fore with a vitamin-packed lollipop.

He's made a delectable sweet which contains major vitamin requirements for the small fry . . . and no pill-popping is involved.

The little darlings never ever know what's going into their tummies. We'uns in these hyar pioneer parts will be blessed with the bountiful lollies within a six-month period. They'll be sold in drug departments only.

Velvet is velly, velly fashionable . . . and velly tricky to keep looking lustrous and lovely.

At least it's tricky if you don't know about the secret of pressing it without flattening the nap.

Put a slightly damp cloth on the wrong side of the velvet and float (not press) a hot iron slowly over the cloth so it steams without pressing down.

Remove the press cloth first . . . and then let the velvet dry thoroughly before removing it from the board.

Simple ain't it?

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Don't Hurry Baby's Bath Makes Task Difficult

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Baby's daily bath should never be so arduous a task that the mother will think up ways to avoid it.

The baby needs the exercise of the cloth which comes from gentle washing and wiping and then it can go to its duty as one of the four great avenues of elimination of the body's refuse. Bowels, bladder and lungs are the other three.

day when the mother can devote herself wholeheartedly to the baby.

It is, also, one of the times of baby, cooing and talking to him, showing him how sweet and precious he is to her.

This is an important aspect of the bath and is lost if the mother performs it in a hurried or aggravated manner just to get through with it. A baby so treated is not going to enjoy his bath and will make the task more difficult for the mother by screaming all through it.

Our leaflet No. 6, "The Baby's Bath," enumerates the way to bathe and toilet needs for this daily ceremony. It may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Tobe on Fashion —

Have You Seen the New Rosy Reds?

There's a lot of red in everything this fall — all shades, too, so that there should be a becoming red for almost everyone. And every woman loves red. I remember a very red-haired friend who longed to wear red and obviously could not. She waited impatiently until her hair turned grey and then rushed out to buy a red dress and has never been without one since.

The newest red is a pretty rosy shade that seems softer and more feminine than clear bright red. They're calling it "Lipstick" in Paris and it does look like the rose red that is such a popular lipstick color at present.

You'll find it in hats—velvet and velours—in wool suits—and in crepe dresses.

Ceiling should be dusted regularly to keep air dust-free. This can be done easily with a vacuum brush, wall mop or cloth-covered broom.

HOW DID YOU come through the summer? Fit into that suit all right?

WHY GROW OLD

Having Trouble Getting Into Last Year's Suits?

By Josephine Lowman

Many women today are slightly puzzled about what happened to them during the summer months. They did not realize just what differences had taken place until they got clothes out of moth balls and tried them on, or in some instances tried to get them on.

Five or six pounds, or an inch or so added to the waistline or the hips can make a big difference in the way last year's chic models looks today.

Today I want to give you a couple of exercises; one for waist slimming and one for hip reduction.

FOR THE WAIST

Here is one for the waist: Stand erect with the arms raised upward overhead. Step forward with the left foot. Keep the feet in this position as you bend forward trying to touch the fingers to the left foot. Raise the trunk and arms and pull BACK to the right. Do this several times. Now place the right foot ahead of the left. Bend forward touching the fingers to the right foot and then raise the trunk and arms, pulling BACK to the left. Continue.

Do You Know—

Q—Do other countries besides ours have skyscrapers?

A—Yes—many foreign cities are erecting buildings of 300 feet and over in height. This is especially true in Argentina, Brazil and Canada.

Q—Did Rosaini compose any operas after William Tell?"

A—No. "William Tell," written by Rosaini at the age of 37, was actually destined to be his operatic swan song.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Wife Submits Her Plan For Stretching Income

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Financing a family is the crisis point in the lives of a married couple.

Perhaps you will be interested in how we have solved this problem. Before I married I was a bookkeeper and I love figuring. As soon as we were married my husband turned his pay envelope over to me and I have had it ever since.

I keep an elaborate set of books that shows just where every penny goes. Everything we buy that is expensive enough to call for a receipt is put in our joint names. Our bank account is a joint account and our home is owned by us together.

Our oldest child hates arithmetic, but she knows how to keep an accurate record of her spending money, and although she makes plenty of errors in school work in adding and subtracting, she doesn't make many in her cash book. Common sense, budgeting and honesty are the three most important things in connection with the family pay envelope. Am I not right?

The Hebrides became part of the kingdom of Scotland in 1266 when ceded by Magnus of Norway.

To Relieve Bad Cough Quickly, Mix This at Home

Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, and, for real results, it is still a most dependable medicine for distressing coughs.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water until dissolved. No cooking is needed. (Or use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup.) Anyone can do it.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid cough medicine—more than you could buy for four times the money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a long time. Children take it without the usual struggle.

This splendid home mixture has a three-fold action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. This explains why it gives such quick relief.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its quick action on throat irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

FOR EXTRA CONVENIENCE GET NEW, READY-TO-USE, PREPARED PINEX.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Buster was puffing out his little cheeks as far as they could be blown. He was huffing and fluffing and gluffing, trying to blow some air into his football so that it would be hard enough to kick.

Uncle Wiggily had tried to blow up the ball with his mouth, but though the jolly old rabbit gentleman could twinkle his pink nose as well as any bunny you ever saw, he didn't have wind enough to blow up the rabbit scout's football.

"Suppose you try, Buster," Uncle Wiggily had said.

Now it was Buster's turn. He had thought it would be better to blow up the football by mouth instead of by Uncle Wiggily's auto air pump in the garage. But the little rabbit scout was having trouble.

Though he blew and blew and blew, the football was still flabby and flat. Uncle Wiggily had blown in some air. Suddenly this air came out of the rubber tube and flipped itself into Buster's mouth.

"Ah! Wah! Glub! Glab! Goop!" gasped Buster as the football blew air into him instead of Buster blowing air into the ball.

"What's the trouble, Buster?" asked Uncle Wiggily, trying not to laugh.

"Aw, Daddy! The football blew air back at me," said the rabbit scout.

While Buster and his daddy were lugging to the garage where there was an air pump, there suddenly came sneaking around back of the bushes a funny old bear gentleman. He was cousin to Mr. Stubtail who was the daddy bear of Neddie and Beckie Stubtail. This funny old bear was named Guffy.

"Oh, boy!" growled Guffy as he saw Uncle Wiggily and Buster. "There are two rabbits. I think I will play a trick on them. I will jump in these bushes. Then, all of a sudden, I will jump out and I will tickle that big rabbit man and that little boy rabbit with my long claws. I will not hurt them. I will just tickle them. Then I will tell my cousin Mr. Stubtail about my trick and we will both laugh, Ha! Ha!"

This Guffy bear didn't know Uncle Wiggily or he would not have tried to play a trick on that jolly rabbit gentleman nor on Buster. But Guffy thought he was a smart bear. So he hid in the bushes and waited.

Uncle Wiggily and Buster hopped into the garage. They took out the long hose attached to the air pump.

"Now is my chance!" growled Guffy the trick bear. While Uncle Wiggily and Buster were blowing up the football, Guffy rushed out from behind the bushes. He was going to tickle the two rabbits.

But something went wrong. Uncle Wiggily put too much air into Buster's football. It filled up. It swelled up. It swelled out. Then suddenly it burst and blew up like a firecracker.

The football blew up just as Guffy the bear was going to tickle Uncle Wiggily and something happened to Guffy. I'll tell you about it on Monday if the little toy fire engine will please quit squirting water on the gold fish and making the poor thing so wet that it has to go to the laundry to find a towel to wipe its face.

THIS METHOD OF HUNTING QUITE COSTLY

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 4— (CP)—A Port William motorist found out that it is some compensation to have a hunting licence when your car kills a deer on the highway.

L. J. Gagnon reported to provincial police that his car had struck and killed a deer on the Nipigon highway east of here. Damage to the car was estimated at $150.

Being the possessor of a hunting licence for the current year, the motorist was allowed by the fish and wildlife division of the department of lands and forests to keep the deer.

BONN, Germany, Nov. 4—(Reuters) — West German steel production, which up to two months ago was limited to 11,100,000 tons annually, now has risen to a yearly rate of 13,500,000 tons, official statistics showed yesterday. The Big Three foreign ministers in September lifted the previous ceiling.

Hope Of Finding Airliner Fades

GRENOBLE, France, Nov. 4—(Reuters)—Hopes of finding a missing India airliner with 48 persons aboard dwindled today as a 60-mile gale screamed through the Alps, grounding rescue planes and hampering ground efforts to locate the crash scene.

Several ground search parties sent word by walkie-takie radio that they were giving up the search on the French side of the Alps because of the wind and heavy snow.

Man Is Fined $112 For Enslaving Boy

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Nov. 4 —(Reuters) — An old African woman sent her 10-year-old grandson to see a doctor in 1947. That was the last she saw of him for three years. A 25-year-old European mine worker, D. W. J. Smit, yesterday was fined $112 or five months' hard labor for kidnapping the boy and making him a servant.

West Germany Signs Yugoslavia

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 4 —(AP)— An agreement whereby West Germany will grant Yugoslavia $35,000,000 in trade credits during a three-year period was signed yesterday by representatives of two countries.

West Germany will help finance Yugoslav purchases of machinery and industrial goods.

Montreal Has Blanket Of Snow

U.K. Trade Good

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(Reuters)—Britain's visible exports equalled her imports at the end of the third quarter of the year, Lord Jowitt, the Lord Chancellor, told the House of Lords last night. He said it was a "remarkable achievement," and the first time it had happened in a long time.

SET TWO CIRCUS FIRES

'Never Had Happy Day in Life' Pleads Killer of 172 Persons

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Nov. 4.—(AP)—A 21-year-old former circus roustabout, who admits burning to death or killing 172 persons during the last 12 years, was sentenced yesterday to four to 40 years in prison.

Robert Dale Segee—a husky youth who says he set the 1944 Ringling Bros. circus fire in Hartford, Conn.—stood quietly before Judge William D. Radcliff. Weeks ago he pleaded guilty to setting two minor Circleville fires.

"I have never been in trouble before," said Segee. "I would like to ask the court to grant me leniency."

He was charged with arson.

Judge Radcliff then sentenced Segee to two terms of two-to-20 years in Ohio penitentiary. The terms are to run consecutively, which means a maximum of 40 years or a minimum of four years with about eight months off for good behavior. This was the maximum penalty under Ohio law.

Segee was arrested last May 17 on a farm of a relative near East St. Louis, Ill. Within a few hours, Segee told astonished sheriffs and state fire marshal inspectors an amazing story of arson and killing dating back to his third year in school. He was nine, he said, when he committed his first slaying—the strangulation of eight-year-old Barbara Driscoll of Portsmouth, N.H., in 1938.

In explanation, he said: "When you get a bunch of brothers who call you 'sissy' all your life, you'd understand a little bit . . . actually I never had a happy day in my life."

He went on to recite a list of scores of fires he set and three other slayings: a watchman in Portland, Me., a 12- or 13-year-old boy in Cape Cottage, Me., and a boy in Japan, where he served with the army of occupation.

A "flaming red Indian," said Segee, tortured him into setting the fires.

'CRAZY AS COOT' LABEL REFUTED BY SANE SCOTT

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4 —(AP)—This coot wasn't so crazy. Forced down in heavy rain in the downtown section, he took refuge in the office of the state game and fish commission.

It's the commission's job to protect coots.

Tom Bingham, chief of law enforcement of the agency, named the coot—which is sort of a hornless relative to the duck—Charlie. He said Charlie will stay there until the weather's good enough for him to go on his way.

Damage was extensive to both cars. The injured were taken to General hospital by passing cars.

Witwicki was summonsed by city police for failure to have a driver's licence.

French Troops Quit Long Line Of Outposts

SAIGON, Indo-China, Nov. 4.—(UP)—The French announced the evacuation of a 25-mile string of outposts southwest of Hanoi today, indicating that a Communist drive on the big northern capital might be developing from the rear.

The Communist offensive in the north already has caved in both flanks of the old French defence line on the border of Communist China.

All the forts in the northeast have been lost. Defences to the northwest were smashed when an isolated French garrison pulled out of the major fortress of Laokay last Wednesday.

A French headquarters spokesman said today the positions southwest of Hanoi were abandoned under a "strong enemy threat."

The outposts evacuated in the newly imperiled sector ran south for 25 miles from Hoa Binh, a French stronghold 45 miles southwest of Hanoi, the biggest city in northern Indo-China.
